U.S. Readies Strong Protest To Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will make the "strongest possible protest" to Red China for giving a 20-year prison sentence to an ailing 68-year-old American prelate, Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said Friday "I find it difficult to emphasize sufficiently the revulsion that I, personally, and the U.S. government feel today."

"I am instructing our ambassador at Warsaw to lodge the strongest possible protest with the representative of the Chinese Communist regime at their next meeting Tuesday, March 22."

The United States does not recognize Red China and has no diplomatic relations with the country. However for the past 18 months Ambassador Jacob D. Beam at Warsaw and the Red Chinese ambassador there, Wang Ping-nan, have been maintaining formal contact. One purpose of the periodic talks is to try to obtain the release of a handful of American prisoners in Red China.

Peiping radio said Friday that Bishop Walsh admitted plotting to overthrow the Communist government. The prelate had been in China since 1948, and remained at his Shanghai post after the Communists took over the next year. He refused an offer to return home in 1955.

Peiping radio also accused Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York of joining Walsh in subversive activities against Red China.

In New York Cardinal Spellman said "no one will take seriously the absurd charges of 'espionage' against Bishop Walsh," which he said followed "a cruel pattern of Communist persecution."

The cardinal said Bishop Walsh would not survive the 20-year sentence.

Air Crash Detectives Dig For Clues in Indiana Mishap

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP) — Air crash detectives moved in a big power shovel today to dig for remains of a Northwest Airlines turboprop that exploded in flight and then drilled a crater in a southern Indiana farm.

They still had no idea whether a bomb, rough air or something else wrecked the craft and killed all 63 persons aboard late Thursday.

Meanwhile, Wm. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), who lost his own son and daughter-in-law in a CHICAGO (AP) — A scrawled license number on a bloodied paper and a set of car keys led police to two men Friday night who they say admitted the killing of two postal investigators who had seized them for mail theft.

The man who police said wielded the gun, George Wilson, 37, Negro, claimed he was high on dope and didn't know he had killed anyone.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has proposed to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany that any presumptive plebiscite held in West Berlin should be conducted with international observers present.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Anti-Catholic literature has cropped up in Wisconsin where Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) are battling for the state's Democratic National Convention delegates.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that surplus-burdened farmers plan to plant about one-third of one per cent less land to crops this year than last.

plane crash last January, was expected to meet with federal and state officials investigating the disaster.

In St. Paul Northwest Airlines officials announced a plan to fly relatives of the victims to a memorial service at the scene next week.

The cause of the crash remained a frustrating mystery. The wreckage was so shattered that for clues investigators had only fragments of airplane and bodies. Among possibilities still being checked were that violent turbulence might have shaken the airliner to pieces or that a bomb might have been planted aboard it.

The Civil Aeronautics Board quoted Air Force Capt. James P. Moore of Enon, Ohio, as saying he saw an aerial column of smoke dropping through the sky about the same time as the Northwest crash—and also about the same time heavy turbulence shook up his jet fighter during a flight over Louisville, Ky. The Northwest plane crashed about 60 miles west of Louisville.

Officials said they had found no specific clues indicating sabotage but still were unable to rule out that possibility.

The four-engine Lockheed Electra was bound from Minneapolis and Chicago to Miami when it exploded in the air in the 10th major air disaster in the world this year.

The body of the Electra plunged into a field in the midst of rugged Ohio River hills and blew up again, blasting a crater 25 feet deep and 40 feet across.

After moving the power shovel about a mile and a half from a road over snow-soggy ground, the investigators planned to use it to unearth wreckage and, possibly, bodies from the bottom of the crater in farmer Joe Wilson's field.

This Is Final Day Of Winter on Calendar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pleasant weather prevailed over much of the western two-thirds of the nation today—the last complete day of winter.

But cloudy to partly cloudy skies shaded most of the eastern third of the country and brought more precipitation to scattered areas.

Rain tapered off in Florida, hard hit by three days of downpours, but an estimated 1,500 persons already had been forced from their homes by surging flood waters in the central part of the state, the Red Cross said.

Broncos Clip Trenton with Overtime Edge

Hoover's Pressure Shot Gives A-ville 68-66 Tourney Win

Ashville's superb Broncos move into the Class A Regional finals at Troy tonight against Salem Local. Last night the Broncos eliminated sensational Trenton, 68-66, in a cliffhanger, overtime tilt.

The Broncos' magnificent pivot man, 6'4" Bobby Hoover, dunked a two-pointer with four seconds remaining in the overtime to give Ashville its 24th win in 26 outings. The state championship is just three games away.

Hoover displayed all his talents last night. He dropped in 9 of 17 field goal attempts and 9 of 14 from the charity stripe for 27 points.

His performance was matched by Trenton's tremendous 5' 9" senior guard, Dan Taylor, who came through with 14 of 28 from the field and one free throw for 29 markers to lead the night's scoring.

The contest was tight from the start. The lead changed hands 21 times and the score was tied 15 times. The largest margin was held by Trenton at the start of third quarter when it swelled its edge to seven points.

ASHVILLE'S top margin was three points at the end of the third quarter. The capacity crowd at Troy's Hobart Arena rarely sat during the second half as the Broncos repeatedly battled back when things looked darkest.

Trenton edged into first period 15-13 lead behind the unerring shooting of Eugene Kelley and Taylor. They reminded Pickaway County fans of Darby's Tommy Walter and Tommy Liff.

Ashville narrowed the margin to one point at halftime, 32-31 behind the leaping rebounding of Hoover and the net splitting set shots of Dickie Hollenback.

After dropping behind seven points at the onset of the third stanza, Ashville rallied with seven straight markers to tie the score at 38-38.

Rathburn's two straight tip-ins gave Ashville a 50-47 third quarter edge. The ding-dong final stanza saw the Broncos down four points with less than two minutes to go.

Hoover's six foul shots and Rathburn's two last minute buckets gave Ashville a one-point lead. Then Kelley knotted the score at 64-64 all with a foul shot. Rathburn missed a last-second field goal. The game went into overtime.

TRENTON took a 66-64 lead in the overtime with a bucket by Kelley. Twenty-seven seconds remained when Rathburn tied the score. Trenton missed a field goal try. Jimmy Gregg then fed Hoover.

Patrolman Hurt, Cruiser Smashed In Highway Chase

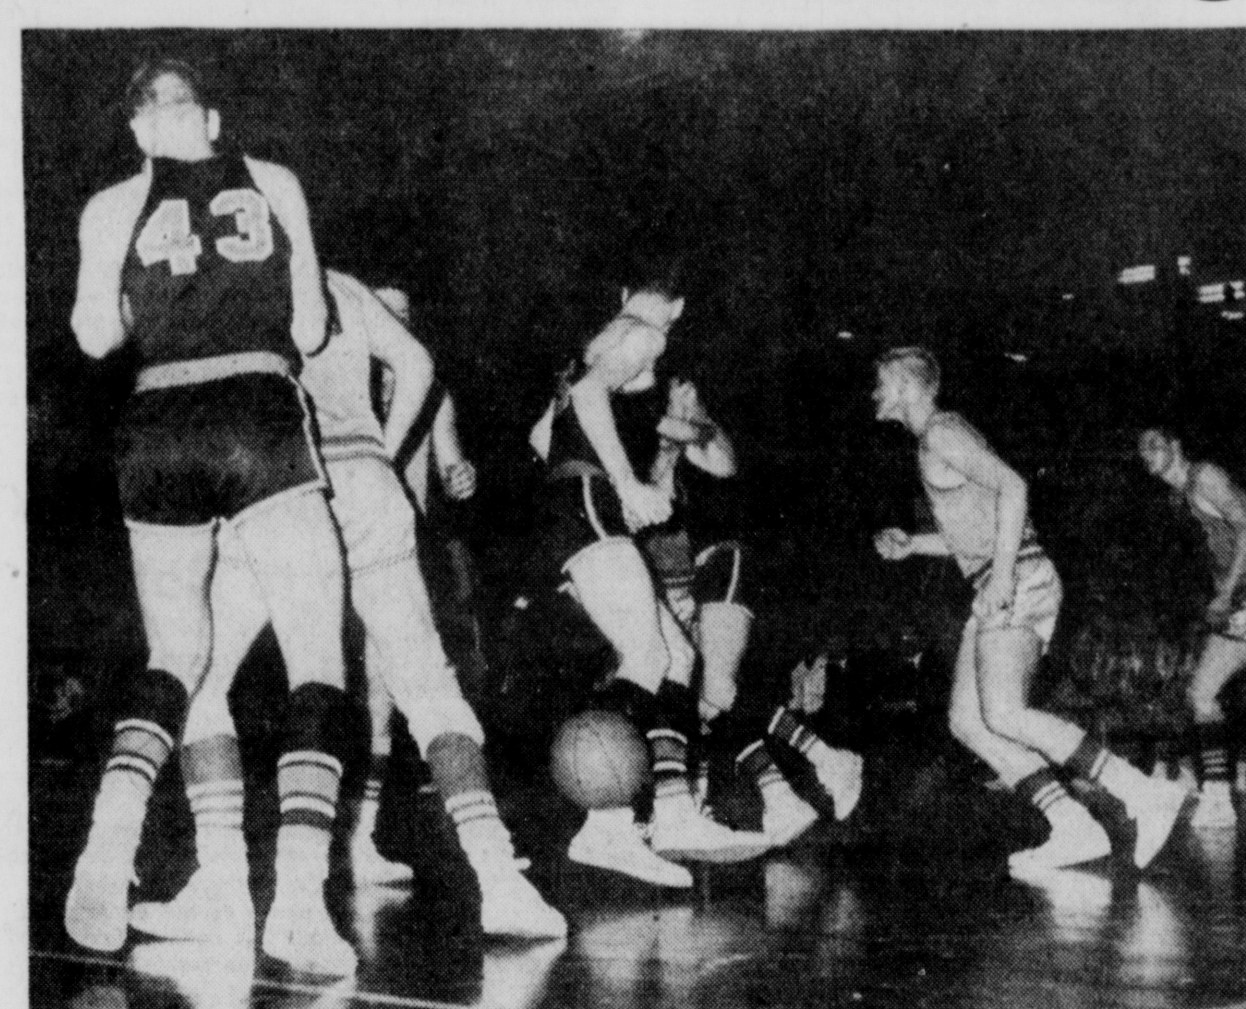

VAN WERT Ohio (AP)—State Highway Patrolman E. L. Johnson was slightly injured but his cruiser was demolished early today when it crashed into a parked truck during a high-speed chase after a stolen vehicle.

The driver of the stolen car got away.

"That's what adds insult to injury," said a patrol dispatcher in Columbus.

Johnson, 30, of Rt. 4, Van Wert, spotted the stolen vehicle on U.S. 30 east of here and gave chase.

The patrol said the stolen car turned suddenly into a truck stop parking lot. Johnson, unable to stop his cruiser in time, crashed into the front end of a parked truck. The truck driver, asleep in the cab, was not hurt.

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING? — Everybody was looking for the agate on this play in Ashville's regional game with Trenton last night at Troy. Trucker Held In Death Probe

Illinois Police Seek Slayer of 3 Women

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Police planned today to question a truck driver in the slaying of three socialites whose holiday from housework ended in a canyon at Starved Rock State Park.

State Police Supt. William Morris said he wanted to question the driver because a truck similar to his was reported seen by three persons Monday afternoon in a parking lot across the road from a trail leading into St. Louis Canyon.

It was in a shallow cave in the canyon that the bodies of the three matrons—showing signs of having been raped—were found Wednesday.

A search for them began after their husbands became alarmed.

Morris said the truck driver's vehicle contained twine like that used to bind the wrists of two of the victims. The twine found in the truck was flown to the State Police laboratory in Springfield for comparison with the twine tied around the women's wrists.

Twine found in the kitchen of the park lodge was also sent to the crime lab.

Morris said the truck driver insisted his truck was not in the park Monday but had been there.

Florida Racial Tension Mounts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Law enforcement authorities were alerted today for further sit-down demonstrations in racially tense Tallahassee, Fla., while eating facilities at a Virginia store were integrated for the first time—on a standup basis.

Memphis, Tenn., reported its initial snack counter sitdown Friday. There were demonstrations in Georgia, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, picketing in North Carolina and court action in South Carolina and Florida.

A Tallahassee Negro leader, the Rev. C. A. Hunter, announced plans for another sitdown in the Florida capital, scene of demonstrations the past five Saturdays and a near riot a week ago.

But the heads of two state universities, white Florida State and Negro Florida A. & M., urged their students to refrain from further mass protests against segregated eating places.

At St. Augustine, Fla., city officials and businessmen set up a bi-racial committee to discuss human relations in line with President Eisenhower's recent recommendation. The decision followed a brief outbreak of violence during a lunch counter sitdown Thursday.

The vertical integration of curried at a Suffolk, Va., variety store lunch counter which was opened to all comers — Negroes and white persons — after all the stools were removed. Crowds of Negroes jammed the counter. The store closed two weeks ago after a series of sitdown protests.

Twelve Negro youths sat down at a snack counter for whites in a Memphis, Tenn., variety store but were refused service. The store closed and the youths left before police arrived.

Groups of Negro students staged sitdowns at a variety store in Norfolk, Va., and at two variety stores in Bluefield, W.Va. Negro high school pupils picketed two downtown stores in New Bern, N.C., but did not enter. Had they done so there might have been trouble. Police said the lunch counter seats were occupied by white youths apparently waiting for the Negroes to show up.

Five Negroes were arrested at a downtown Savannah, Ga., department store when they refused to leave a restaurant. Three Negroes were arrested at the same store earlier this week.

At Baltimore, a Negro college student and the white manager of a restaurant were arrested on complaints growing out of a sit-down demonstration by about 100 Negroes. The restaurant then closed for the day.

Fifteen Negro college students pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges at Columbia, S.C. They admitted taking part in a stick-swinging rampage at a white drive-in restaurant March 5 during which two parked cars were battered by sticks and bricks and a white woman injured by broken glass.

Trial of 15 of the 388 Negro students arrested during an anti-segregation parade Tuesday began in Orangeburg, S.C. They were charged with breach of the peace. State prosecutors said they plan to try the others in groups of 15.

At Tallahassee, 11 Negroes were convicted of disturbing the peace in connection with a Feb. 20 sit-down. Eight went to jail rather than pay $300 fines.

Personal Tax Take Up

Vote Referee Plan Backers Are Confident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of the voting referee plan expressed confidence today the House will approve it next week, even though a major attempt to narrow its terms was beaten by only three votes Friday.

The issue Friday was whether the plan for referees to help Negroes and others fight efforts to keep them from voting should apply to all elections, including state and local tests, or only to those for federal officers. The vote to keep the broad plan intact was 137-134.

In the Senate, a proposal to let the President appoint federal registrars in areas where he believed there was voting discrimination against Negroes was defeated 53-24 on a roll-call vote.

Rep. William McCulloch of Ohio, leader of House Republicans favoring strong civil rights legislation, said after the House vote "This was the closest question in the whole legislation."

"Many of our people who voted to restrict the referees' role to federal elections will vote for the plan as a whole when the time comes. It was a matter of conscientious conviction — some felt very strongly there should be no federal participation in the machinery of purely local elections, for county commissioners and that sort of office."

The vote was taken by tellers, without a record of how individuals voted. However, it appeared as the members filed down the aisle to be counted that Republicans, despite the strong administration urgings, divided about equally.

Reds Propose Immediate Halt To Big Firings

U.S., Britain Asked To Join Study of Underground Blasts

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet delegates today accepted conditionally President Eisenhower's plan for a partial nuclear-test ban.

They offered to sign an honor system treaty with the United States and Britain immediately to bar big tests — oceanic, atmospheric or underground—if the two Western powers join the Soviet Union in a promise to refrain indefinitely from conducting small underground blasts.

Under the Soviet proposal there would be no international control to insure compliance with the moratorium.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin told a special meeting of the long deadlocked Big Three nuclear conference that the moratorium would be accompanied by a joint three-power scientific study to deal with the problem of small underground blasts. This is the sort of explosions the United States maintains cannot be policed with existing detection techniques.

Tsarapkin blamed the United States for the conference's inability to conclude a comprehensive treaty. U. S. Ambassador James L. Wadsworth challenged him on this ground.

But both Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore characterized Tsarapkin's proposal as an important statement.

"There can be no doubt of this," Wadsworth said.

Tsarapkin's move came three days after the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission had announced plans for Operation Gnome, the explosion of a nuclear device for peaceful scientific purposes planned in New Mexico next January.

Tsarapkin's proposal was made at the 18th meeting of the marathon conference and the first week-end meeting for nearly a year. It marked the turning point in long deadlocked discussion of underground controls though there was no assurance the proposal would be acceptable to the two Western powers.

Tsarapkin said the voluntary moratorium should remain in force while the three powers conduct a joint research program to improve detection techniques to such a point that a control system could be expanded to cover all possible tests.

The Western delegations have themselves suggested such a

But both Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore characterized Tsarapkin's proposal as an important statement.

"There can be no doubt of this," Wadsworth said.

Tsarapkin's move came three days after the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission had announced plans for Operation Gnome, the explosion of a nuclear device for peaceful scientific purposes planned in New Mexico next January.

Tsarapkin's proposal was made at the 188th meeting of the marathon conference and the first weekend meeting for nearly a year. It marked the turning point in long deadlocked discussion of underground controls though there was no assurance the proposal would be acceptable to the two Western powers.

Tsarapkin said the voluntary moratorium should remain in force while the three powers conduct a joint research program to improve detection techniques to such a point that a control system could be expanded to cover all possible tests.

The Western delegations have themselves suggested such a re-

Vote Referee Plan Backers Are Confident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of the voting referee plan expressed confidence today the House will approve it next week, even though a major attempt to narrow its terms was beaten by only three votes Friday.

The issue Friday was whether the plan for referees to help Negroes and others fight efforts to keep them from voting should apply to all elections, including state and local tests, or only to those for federal officers. The vote to keep the broad plan intact was 137-134.

In the Senate, a proposal to let the President appoint federal registrars in areas where he believed there was voting discrimination against Negroes was defeated 53-24 on a roll-call vote.

Rep. William McCulloch of Ohio, leader of House Republicans favoring strong civil rights legislation, said after the House vote "This was the closest question in the whole legislation."

"Many of our people who voted to restrict the referees' role to federal elections will vote for the plan as a whole when the time comes. It was a matter of conscientious conviction — some felt very strongly there should be no federal participation in the machinery of purely local elections, for county commissioners and that sort of office."

The vote was taken by tellers, without a record of how individuals voted. However, it appeared as the members filed down the aisle to be counted that Republicans, despite the strong administrative urgings, divided about equally.

Future Farmers of Monroe

By Patty Blankenship
On March 10 the Monroe school gym was the place of the first meeting of the Future Farmers of Monroe 4-H Club. The meeting was called to order by Jim Shell, president. Roll call was answered by naming a project. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were then given.

The constitution was read and the date of meetings was changed officially to the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of each month.

We talked about community projects and decided to donate money to the Cancer and Heart Funds. The matter of buying and displaying U. S. flags was discussed. We decided that project reports would be given at the next meeting. Volleyball and basketball was the recreation that followed the meeting.

Our next meeting will be held at 8 p. m. March 24, in the Monroe Township School.

Saltcreek's George Maxson Champion County Corn Grower

George Maxson, Saltcreek Twp. farmer, was named the champion corn producer of the recently organized Pickaway County Century Corn Club Tuesday night at its first annual banquet.

Maxson raised a record - producing 148 bushels per acre of Indian corn. He received a trophy presented by George Hamrick, County Extension Agent, originator of the club, which was formed last spring.

A fine turnout was registered at the banquet held in the Mecca Restaurant dining room. Guest speaker was Dr. Gordon Ryder, State Extension agronomist at Ohio State University, Columbus.

The local corn club is one of approximately 30 clubs in the state organized by the extension service. In all, nearly 50 per cent of the state's counties have corn clubs, either sponsored by extension services or vocational agriculture departments.

THEIR PURPOSES are to improve corn production practices that will result in more efficient corn production. The corn club provides educational services and research data to assist farmers in finding efficient and proper methods of raising field corn.

The trend for the last five years is that corn production costs have risen while corn sale prices have decreased. This club helps the farmer produce corn cheaper to raise the margin of profit.

The club has 22 members, but any county farmer interested may contact the extension office here for details of joining the group.

Dr. Ryder discussed the results of the test plots grown last year and their results. He showed a comparison where the lower the yields the lower the nitrogen content of the soil and that which was added.

The aphid problem was brought out. Dr. Ryder said the best control of aphid was for farmers to plant aphid resistant types of hybrid corn.

He discussed at some length the advantages and results of research on minimum tillage. He said three-year tests had increased production of nearly eight bushels per acre.

ITS ADVANTAGE is that only an eight-inch row surrounding the seed row is cultivated, allowing the perimeter to build up which in turn drains rainfall onto the planted row.

It also cuts down on compaction of the soil, from continual plowing, disking and cultivating which results in reduced air space.

L. Hamrick presented certificates to all club members who averaged more than 100 bushels per acre of corn last year. Those receiving awards were Bernard Ball, Robert Barnes, Ernest Bidwell, Winfred Bidwell;

Lloyd Drummond and sons, Har-

Wool Market Year Near End

With the 1959 wool marketing year coming to a close and the 1960 year beginning, growers were reminded today of the importance of complete records on their sales of wool and unshorn lambs.

Producers will be eligible for payments for the 1959 marketing year for wool and unshorn lambs marketed not later than March 31 of this year. Later marketings will be eligible for payments for the 1960 year.

Marvin G. Steely, Chairman, Pickaway County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds wool growers that the sales documents must show the true net sales proceeds, including deductions made for freight and other marketing charges. Where false information is filed, both the producer and the wool buyer are subject to penalties.

Applications for payment under the 1959 program must be filed at the County ASC Office not later than April 30, 1960. The average price received by farmers for wool during the entire marketing year can then be calculated and the payment rate announced. Payments to growers will be made sometimes during the summer.

Liquor Agency Up to Date On Inventory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Liquor Department says it finally is up to date in processing data on liquor inventories, sales and allocations for the approximately 350 state stores and agencies.

That phase of the department's operations has been behind scheduled for about eight months. Finance Director James H. Maloon pointed out three months ago that the result was a delay in information needed to deposit gallonage and liquor sales taxes in the general revenue fund.

George R. Reiser, chief of the department's Division of Data processing, said the rented electronic equipment has been capable of doing the job all along, but that personnel had to be trained.

Since taking over the division in October, Reiser said he has been keeping the equipment busy seven days a week and "practically around the clock" to catch up. The division caught up March 12, Reiser said, and the data now is never more than a week-and-a-half old.

The department put in a punch card system during the O'Neill administration, and was caught up on data processing until the more complicated electronic equipment was installed last July. It pays about $15,800 a month rent for the data processing machines.

Pickaway Grange

NEBRASKA GRANGE

Nebraska Grange met Tuesday night with Worthy Master Ralph Dunkel presiding.

Legislative Agent Everett Beers reported on a legislative meeting that he and several other members attended recently at Blenden Grange at Westerville. There will be another such meeting held March 31 in Columbus. This is one way to let our Senators and Representatives know how we stand on various matters.

Contributions were made to the Cancer Society, and also for an FM Radio system to be installed in the Pickaway County Home for the Aged. This is a County - wide Community Service project being sponsored by the eight Granges in the County.

It is reported the County Home is in need of the following articles — stands, chests of drawers, rocking chairs, dressers, and pin lights that are serviceable. Anyone having such things are asked to notify the Master of the Grange.

The Lecturer, Mrs. Wayne Hines, opened her program with group singing "My Wild Irish Rose," after which Ralph Dunkel told a Pat and Mike story. Several from the Grange have been taking a course in First Aid, so Mrs. Hines had them demonstrate some of the things they learned.

Mrs. David Dill read a poem called "The Worst-Alder." Everett Beers told what to do in case of burns. Artificial respiration was demonstrated by Mrs. Russell Hedges, Everett Beers and Ralph Dunkel. Alan Dill showed different methods of bandaging. This proved to be an interesting discussion. The course is sponsored by the Red Cross.

Alan and Ann Peters sang "Do-Re-Mi" from the Broadway musical. They were accompanied by their Mother, Mrs. Joseph Peters. A potato contest between the O'Neill's and O'Sullivan's was the climax to a very enjoyable evening, which closed with group singing, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling."

Refreshments, in keeping with St. Patrick's Day, were served by the March committee, with Mrs. William Winter, chairman.

Earl Holliman (Hotel de Paree) said that violence per se is kept out of the show. When big fight scenes are done, the film makers try to inject humor. Holliman said viewers seek action and violence in Westerns as an escape and added, "No Western is as violent as some of the cartoons that are shown on TV."

Bob Horton (Wagon Train) says his show has aimed more for straight story lines with character development in the past year. But you can't show a true picture of the West without some violence, he said—"otherwise it would be 'Little Women' with an all-male cast."

But "Gunsmoke," long one of the most violent of the Westerns, appears to be holding the line. Says star Jim Arness:

"The purpose of 'Gunsmoke' is to portray as realistically as possible a period of history. This period by force of necessity was a hard period. The frontier was run by men who were strong and survived through that strength. When violence erupted as it did, it was Matt Dillon's job to put it down wherever and whenever it occurred. As such, 'Gunsmoke' will continue its policy of realism."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Viola Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartly, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wolfe.

Refreshment committee for the next meeting is Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolfe, and Homer McGlone.

Worship Every Week ---

The Rev. Mable Whipple To Speak at Gospel Center

The Rev. Mable Whipple, Columbus, will be guest speaker at the 10:30 a. m. Worship Service tomorrow at the Gospel Center.

Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a. m. with classes for all ages. Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. with William Brown as discussion leader.

Evangelist services will be held at 7:30 p. m. with the Rev. Mable Whipple bringing the message.

Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday with Benny Lutz in charge.

Presbyterian

During the Lenten Season The Rev. Donald Mitchell has been following the general theme of "A Lenten Look at Our Lord's Prayer".

On this Sunday morning the theme will be "Thy Will Be Done". This is a Lenten call to prayer at the Presbyterian Church at the morning worship at 10:30 a. m.

Third in the series "A Lenten Look at Our Lord's Prayer", this petition "Thy Will Be Done", confronts us with a direct challenge to accept prayer as serious personal conversation with the God whom Jesus had in mind, the eternal God "our Father".

Our conversation with Him is not to be used as attempts to get what we want but to give God an opportunity to do what He wants, which after all is what we want. Is it not "His Kingdom" for which we pray: "Thy Kingdom come"? Then it is His will, not ours. If it were ours we would not bother to consult Him!

Realizing this, —prayer, your personal conversation with the loving Father, — is blasphemy if it does not alter your life.

The way you live is proof of what you really want. Ask the Father for the things Jesus asked of Him, then in that same spirit of love which is in Christ go "all out" in support of what you ask for, and God will bring it to pass.

Just remember: we are not running the universe, — He is. It is His will we want. Talk with Him about the things that belong to His Kingdom, and ask that His will shall become your will. This brings a "yes" answer. The Rev. Mitchell will read the scripture background for this message from the Book of Acts, chapter 3.

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, organist, will play "Prelude" by Silver; "A Lenten Offertory" by Edmundson; and Kinder's "Exultemus".

The Choir under the direction of Mrs. Clark Will will sing the anthem by Mueller "Let This Mind Be In You".

Hymns sung by the congregation will be the Lenten hymn, "Lord, who Throughout These Forty Days"; "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee"; and "Ye Servant of God".

The catechism class again meets with the pastor in the session room of the church from 2:30 p. m. There will be no Westminster Fellowship meeting this evening, high school members will be attending a rally at the Trinity Lutheran Church.

The church will be open daily for any who wish to spend a few quiet minutes in the sanctuary in meditation during the Lenten Season. The pastor will be in the study from 8 a. m. until noon and 1 p. m.

Calvary E.U.B.

"Growing in the Christian Life" is the theme of the message to be delivered by the Rev. G. H. Niswender at the 9 a. m. worship service at the Calvary EUB Church. The Scripture lesson will be read from St. Luke 8:4-15. Earl Milliron, Sunday School Superintendent, will preside at this service.

Mrs. Earl Milliron will be at the organ. She will play "Lenten Meditation" by Richolson, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Koschat, and "Great Is the Lord" by Nolte.

The Youth Choir will be singing "The Church in Which I Worship" by Arbuckle. The congregational hymns will include: "O Could I Speak the Matchless Worth", and "O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go".

The children will assemble at 9 a. m. for Sunday School classes and at 10 a. m. for worship service. These sessions will be under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen.

The youth and adults will go to their classes for study at 10 a. m. There will be no Y-Hour this Sunday since the youth group will be attending the rally at the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Church of Christ

The Gospel meeting will continue at the Church of Christ this Sunday with Robert Henry, Marion, preaching each evening at 7:45 p. m. through Tuesday.

Jack Rankin, minister, will exchange pulpits with Mr. Henry tomorrow. Come and bring a friend.

First E.U.B.

"Your Horoscope by God's Great Fortune Teller" has been chosen by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs for his sermon subject to be delivered tomorrow morning in First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The service begins at 9:30 a. m.

The Fidelis Chorus, directed by Miss Lucille Kirkwood, will sing, "He's Calling You" (Hine). Mrs. Verneal Thomas, organist, announces the following numbers: prelude, "Meditation" (Durand); offertory, "Look of all Gentleness" (Drew); and postlude, "Go Forth with Praise" (Ritter). Hymns to be sung by the congregation include, "Bring Them In", "Our Best", and "I'll Live for Him". Edwin Richardson will assist the pastor in the worship service.

Sunday School in the children's department will convene in the service center at 9:25 a. m. with Mrs. Robert Dumm and Miss Virginia White in charge. Church School in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship hour. The catechism class will meet in the service center at 10:35 a. m. Nursery care is provided during both the worship service and Sunday School.

First Baptist

Services in the First Baptist Church will begin with Sunday School classes at 9:30 a. m. The Worship Service will be held at 10:30 a. m.

"The Church at Work" is the sermon subject for the morning Worship Service. The Rev. Paul White will present the message.

"What We Reap Depends Upon What We Sow" is the theme for the evening Worship Service at 7:30 p. m. Baptist Training Union will follow the evening service at 6:30 p. m.

A trio will present special music in the evangelistic hour which begins at 7:30 p. m. in the main sanctuary. The message will be given by the pastor.

Ike Proposes Promotion of U.S. Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes that by spending about 10 million dollars to promote exports it can increase the foreign sales of American industry another two to four billion dollars a year.

President Eisenhower announced the government-wide export promotion program Thursday, and asked the support of Congress in providing a supplemental appropriation to get the program rolling in the year starting July 1.

Undersecretary of Commerce Philip A. Ray, head of the inter-agency task force which is organizing the drive, told reporters the initial request probably will be only about five million dollars.

But when the campaign gains full momentum, he said, the cost

may run 10 to 12 million dollars a year, largely to increase the staffs of the Commerce and Agriculture departments and to more than double the number of commercial attaches of American embassies.

The current rate of export shipments, Ray said, is about 18 billion dollars a year. This, if sustained, will be an increase of about 2½ billion dollars in 1960 over the total foreign sales for 1959.

It is hoped, Ray said, that the promotion effort will provide an additional 10 to 20 per cent increase in annual sales, thereby adding roughly two to four billion dollars a year to the nation's foreign trade volume.

Imports are expected to increase also, Ray said, but at a slower rate. The net result should be a significant decrease in the size of the deficit in international payments, which amounted to $3-700,000,000 last year.

Eisenhower Accepts Portugal Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today formally accepted an invitation to visit Lisbon, Portugal, on his way home from the summit conference in Paris which opens May 16.

The invitation was extended by Portugal's President Americo Rodriguez Tomas.

No specific date has been set for Eisenhower's arrival in Lisbon.

The Golden Time

When Mom and I got married, golden weddings seemed just as remote to us as they probably do to you. Matter of fact, folks celebrating them seemed like museum pieces!

Now here we are, posing for our fiftieth anniversary picture! Funny part of it is that we don't feel a bit like "old folks!"

Still, a couple can't be married for half a century without putting in a lot of living. Mom and I have. There were times when we were so happy we thought we'd burst . . . other times when it didn't seem as if we could find the strength to keep going another minute.

Through it all, we've had our church. It's hard to put into words how important that's been. Maybe you'll get an idea when I tell you this. When Mom asked me what I'd like to do to celebrate our anniversary, I said, "First of all, let's go to Church. I want to say a little prayer of thanks."

Mom smiled at me. "So do I," she told me.

Trinity Lutheran

Duplicate worship service in Trinity Lutheran Church this Sunday will be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m.

Pastor Carl G. Zehner will present the sermon, "Long Days Journey into Light" based on II Cor. 11:23-31.

The Youth Choir under the direction of Clifford Kerns will lead the singing at the early service and the late service the singing will be led by the Adult Choir under the direction of Mr. Fred Hebbeler.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann will preside at the organ at both services.

Sunday School will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m.

The nursery will be open during the late service tomorrow and also during Wednesday night Lenten Services.

Call GR 4-2123 for a one minute devotion.

Gabriel Fahrenheit, inventor of the mercurial thermometer, was a German physicist born in Danzig.

First Methodist

The First Methodist Church worship services will be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. tomorrow.

"Looking Toward the Lord" will be the morning sermon topic. Special music will be provided in the early service by the Junior Choir, and in the later service by the Senior Choir.

Congregational hymns will be "O Master Workman of the Race", "O Son of Man, Thou Madest Known", and "Ye Fair Green Hills of Galilee".

The Senior III Methodist Youth Fellowship will join the other youth of Circleville from 2-7 p. m. tomorrow at the Lutheran Church.

The "church visitors" will meet in the sanctuary for instruction.

At 5 p. m. the seventh grade will entertain the eighth grade to a dinner in the church dining room.

Christian Union

The morning worship hour at the Church of Christ in Christian Union, 438 E. Ohio St., will begin at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Pastor Richard G. Humble will deliver the message. Diana Richards will provide special music.

Sunday School will commence at 9:30 a. m. in the adult, junior, and beginner departments. The regular superintendents will have charge in their departments.

The children of the junior church will worship with the adults again this Sunday.

Youth service is at 6:30 p. m. in the youth chapel. This service will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Derxson.

A trio will present special music in the evangelistic hour which begins at 7:30 p. m. in the main sanctuary. The message will be given by the pastor.

Ike Proposes Promotion of U.S. Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government hopes that by spending about 10 million dollars to promote exports it can increase the foreign sales of American industry another two to four billion dollars a year.

President Eisenhower announced the government-wide export promotion program Thursday, and asked the support of Congress in providing a supplemental appropriation to get the program rolling in the year starting July 1.

Undersecretary of Commerce Philip A. Ray, head of the interagency task force which is organizing the drive, told reporters the initial request probably will be only about five million dollars.

But when the campaign gains full momentum, he said, the cost

may run 10 to 12 million dollars a year, largely to increase the staffs of the Commerce and Agriculture departments and to more than double the number of commercial attaches of American embassies.

The current rate of export shipments, Ray said, is about 18 billion dollars a year. This, if sustained, will be an increase of about 2½ billion dollars in 1960 over the total foreign sales for 1959.

It is hoped, Ray said, that the promotion effort will provide an additional 10 to 20 per cent increase in annual sales, thereby adding roughly two to four billion dollars a year to the nation's foreign trade volume.

Imports are expected to increase also, Ray said, but at a slower rate. The net result should be a significant decrease in the size of the deficit in international payments, which amounted to $3-700,000,000 last year.

Eisenhower Accepts

Portugal Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today formally accepted an invitation to visit Lisbon, Portugal, on his way home from the summit conference in Paris which opens May 18.

The invitation was extended by Portugal's President Americo Rodrigues Tomas.

No specific date has been set for Eisenhower's arrival in Lisbon.

The Golden Time

When Mom and I got married, golden weddings seemed just as remote to us as they probably do to you. Matter of fact, folks celebrating them seemed like museum pieces!

Now here we are, posing for our fiftieth anniversary picture! Funny part of it is that we don't feel a bit like "old folks!"

Still, a couple can't be married for half a century without putting in a lot of living. Mom and I have. There were times when we were so happy we thought we'd burst ... other times when it didn't seem as if we could find the strength to keep going another minute.

Through it all, we've had our church. It's hard to put into words how important that's been. Maybe you'll get an idea when I tell you this. When Mom asked me what I'd like to do to celebrate our anniversary, I said, "First of all, let's go to Church. I want to say a little prayer of thanks."

Mom smiled at me. "So do I," she told me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Death Penalty Under Fire

California's debate over the question of retaining or abolishing the death penalty for crimes other than treason is merely the latest episode in a continuing wrangle that has involved most of the world in the controversy. Although the trend in recent history has been in favor of abolition, the debate continues to rage on even in areas which have abandoned the extreme penalty for crimes against society.

Britain has gone from one extreme to another in pursuing the moral and crime-deterrent arguments familiar to all. Less than two centuries ago, Britons faced the death penalty if convicted of any one of 350 offenses. Today, executions are rare and usually only for murder.

Thirty-five countries have abolished capital punishment for civil crimes. Nine American states—Maine, Minnesota, Michigan, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Delaware, Hawaii and Alaska no longer include it in their statutes.

During the decade of the 1930s an average of 167 persons were executed in the U.S. each year. Last year 49 were put to death.

These are but a few of the statistics showing the trend in modern criminal penalties. Many studies have been made to the death penalty has on the incidence of capital crimes in areas which formerly required a life for the more serious offenses against society.

In areas with the same living conditions and ethnic traits, most surveys show little difference in crime rates. But if these studies indicate the death penalty is not in itself a deterrent to crime, they do not answer the question whether man owes his life to society for the willful taking or endangering of other lives.

Whatever the outcome of the California debate, the controversy will continue.

Courtin' Main

Most all of us have something to fall back on. And a lot of times we fall back on it, too.

Solons' Trips on Increase

Taxpayers will never know how much money their elected representatives in Congress spent in 1959 on trips throughout the world. The coy junketeers won't tell, and congressional tradition forbids public disclosure of overseas trip costs. Your Congressman may not hesitate to tell you he was one of the 31 members of Congress to travel behind the iron curtain last year, but the chances are slim he will disclose what you paid for his trip.

Not all Senators and Representatives consider it a legislative prerogative to spend money secretly. Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa introduced a bill in the House last year to force the unveiling of costs of congressional junkets. It is now deeply buried in the House Administration Committee, probably never to emerge.

Why should Congress so blithely refuse to submit its expense account to those who foot the bill? The Internal Revenue Treasury had better not pad the expense account. Why should not those who withdraw money from the national bank also be required to submit itemized expense sheets for justification?

The number of Congressmen who went abroad last year was 190, an increase of 41 over the previous year. Many solons were embarrassed in 1958 by a forceful attempt in and out of the halls of Congress to examine the travel books, which might explain the relatively few travelers that year. A banner year for globe-circling Congressmen was 1957, with 222 attending to business outside the confines of the United States.

Many — perhaps most — on the trips taken to London, Warsaw, Paris and other points East and West in 1959 were legitimate. There may also be some justification for the claim that some of the trips concern matters of national security too ticklish to open to public view. But the suspicion will persist that there is something inherently wrong about the action of a public body, as expensive to the taxpayers as Congress, in refusing to divulge any details of its wide-ranging travels.

Prophets Just Guessing

The world is full of prophets, tipsters, pundits and sooth-sayers. They all know what is to happen. In general terms, it is possible to have some idea of what may happen.

For instance, we know that unless we are destroyed by an H-bomb or a rocket, next November 8, an election will take place for a President of the United States and that there will be two major candidates and that one will be elected. Nobody has been nominated yet but there are already prophets who are ready to say who will be elected.

Bernard M. Baruch, who has done well for himself by being correct at the right time, said way back in 1955:

"No one, not even the most experienced trader, economist or business man can predict with certainty the course of the stock market. Whether stocks rise or fall is determined by innumerable forces and elements, by economic conditions, the actions of governments, the state of international affairs, the emotions of people — even the vagaries of the weather."

The prophets are really gamblers. They fail to take into account the imponderables which are so important politically. For instance, Castro is a nuisance beyond his mites in 1960 because it is an election year. There is no telling what such a man will do, particularly if he gets hold of a Mig. No present calculations about the November election can exclude Castro.

Baruch was talking about the stock market, the ups and downs of which rarely prove anything. But the same is true of any isolated factors which in themselves may be startling but not conclusive. Sputnik scared a great many Americans livid. Some of them even began to study Russian, perhaps to be able to say, "Good morning!" to their conquerors.

Actually, we have done as well as the Russians have in this particular race. It is not very important whether we or they are ahead. Sooner or later, every country will manufacture bombs, missiles, rockets and other means of devastation and then halt to realize that thus far, all these weapons exist and have not been used. Talk is still the principal weapon of diplomacy and war.

The signs of the times are hard to discern. When President Eisenhower says that Latin American — United States relations are at their peak, does he mean that they are about to deteriorate?

These figures of speech rarely apply to international relations. Certainly our relations with Latin America cannot be so good, if the President has to rub his eyes out of his head during a triumphal procession of friendship.

Or to put it another way, let us quote again from Baruch's 1955 statement:

"This distinction between the thermometer and the fever is a crucial one. We face one kind of problem if the thermometer is not working properly. But outward symptoms should not be mistaken for fundamental causes. The thermometer should not be blamed for reflecting all the uncertainties of a world which is neither at war nor at peace, or of the effects of the actions taken by different business management or of the inflationary policies which have been pursued for so long."

The times are uncertain and the results of policies are uncertain.

Jesuits Run Special Home For Newly-Freed Prisoners

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The Rev. Charles D. Clark glances around the old school building and remarks:

"You can see more crooks here in 10 minutes than you can in a month on TV."

The old school is Dismas House, a haven operated by Father Clark for burglars, stickupmen, murderers and other felons recently released from prison.

Dismas House, named for the good thief who died on a cross next to Jesus, is a halfway house between prison and the outside world.

In it, paroled convicts get meals, a bed, a change of clothing and, more than likely, a new lease on life.

Father Clark, a 57-year-old Jesuit, has devoted himself to helping criminals for the past 23 years. He rather enjoys his informal title "Hoodlum Priest."

Since October, Dismas House has turned over more than 300 rehabilitated criminals. They have jobs and homes and are on the way to becoming useful members of society.

Before Dismas House, Father Clark helped countless other convicts. Some slipped back to the guns and blackjack.

"I don't kid myself," says Father Clark. "I play the percentages. But you can almost sense it if a man really wants to go straight."

Before the men are paroled in his custody, they are carefully screened at the prison. Then Father Clark takes a long look at them himself. He will not accept tain. Our government ought to speak honestly to our people and tell them where we have made the three of four mistakes that have got us into trouble. For we are in trouble and Latin America is too important for us to pass by with the flip of a press agent's fingers. We are going through a classical inflationary period which has been moving faster year by year since about 1948 and is now accelerated to a high speed.

One characteristic of the second stage of an inflation, that is, the stage when the capitalist begins to look for cover, is that there is a shift of investments in stocks to wild speculation in real estate. This always happens because when speculators regard themselves as too spread out, they try to cover by what they believe is a safer although less spectacular investment.

The third phase is when the very wise man deserts the stock market and the real estate speculation to make himself, as he calls it, liquid. That is, he holds on to cash in the hope of picking up things at cheap prices when they fall.

rapists, homosexuals or narcotics addicts.

The idea for Dismas House started working in Father Clark's mind 23 years ago when Judge David Fitzgibbons invited him to attend some sessions of the Court of Criminal Correction.

"I was shocked by what I saw," he recalls. "Men with no hope in life. No home, family, friends. Men who returned to crime because they couldn't see any other way to go."

One day last year Father Clark walked into the office of his lawyer-friend, Morris Shenker, an Orthodox Jew and sometime benefactor. The lawyer looked at the priest and reached for his wallet.

"OK, father, how much this time?" he asked.

"Forty thousand ought to do," answered Father Clark.

Shenker put down $2,000, signed a note for the remainder and soon an 87-year-old abandoned school, located in a grim section of downtown St. Louis, became Dismas House.

About 30 men currently are residents of Dismas House. It can handle 60. A released convict usually stays about two weeks.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE have been lots of reviews of D. H. Lawrence's controversial novel, "Lady Chatterley's Lover," but none even vaguely comparable to Ed Zern's tongue-in-cheek commentary in Field and Stream Magazine. Noted Zern: "This fictional account of the day-by-day life of an English gamekeeper will have considerable appeal to a male reader, containing as it does interesting passages on pheasant raising, ways to control vermin, and other chores and duties of the professional gamekeeper. Unfortunately, one is obliged to wade through many pages about illicit love and passion to discover and savor the sidelights on the management of an English shooting estate. It is doubted that this book can replace J. R. Miller's 'Practical Gamekeeping.'"

Oliver Herford defined winter as the season when suburbanites struggled to keep the house as hot as it was in August when they complained about it. Julius Tannen had another definition for winter: a time when gentlemen befur blondes.

Scientist Believes Man's Big Challenge Is Himself

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Of all the challenging frontiers mankind faces, the greatest of all lies in man himself and his capacity to develop, a leading scientist told Ohio State University's winter graduating class yesterday.

Dr. John D. Kraus, Ohio State's renowned radio astronomer, addressed the 530-member class in St. John Arena.

He told the graduates they are entering a decade which may see manned artificial satellites and the exploration and first colonization of the moon and planets. Dr. Kraus is the only known person to track accurately the first earth satellite, Sputnik I, to its death in 1958.

"The situation which faces you and faces us all as we enter the new space age," Dr. Kraus told the graduates, "is a million times more significant to man and his future than that on the eve of Columbus' voyages 468 years ago."

"It will require all the imagination, flexibility and daring you can muster to meet the challenge. There are new frontiers in medicine, agriculture and in the arts. But the greatest frontier of all lies in man himself and his capacity to develop."

Wishing and dollars alone will not meet the space-age challenge, Dr. Kraus asserted. "It will require hard work... and a keen realization of what is important and what is worthwhile. We need less arrogance and more humility and dedication. We need less emphasis on a high standard of living and more on a high standard of thinking and doing."

Among the things needed to help meet the challenge, he said is greater recognition to the important place which women have in the national scene. "They have mental abilities which we as a nation are utilizing only to a small extent," Dr. Kraus declared.

Guard Baby Against Measles

By Herman N. Sundesen, M.D.

The end of winter usually signals the beginning of the measles' season. Epidemics generally occur every two to three years, about this time of the year in the cities and towns where children are in daily close contact.

I'm sure that most parents are familiar with the slightly raised red spots and the other symptoms of this common children's disease. We have discussed them in this column many times.

So today I want to emphasize the reasons for protecting young children from the disease.

Now all of you know that, ordinarily, measles is nothing to worry about. Most healthy school-age children will recover completely in about two weeks with no serious after-effects.

However, for babies and children under five years of age, measles can mean very serious trouble. Not only does the disease itself present more of a problem, but secondary infections, such as pneumonia, can be fatal.

Most cases of measles occur among youngsters between the ages of five and ten years. However, complications occur among younger children.

While pneumonia is the most common complication, ear infection and encephalitis — inflammation of the brain — also can develop.

Therefore every effort should be made to protect children of five years of age and under from measles.

If an older child in the family develops symptoms of a head cold during an outbreak of measles, keep him away from his brothers and sisters.

If you believe your younger children have been exposed to the disease, notify your doctor at once. They can be protected if you act in time.

We have preparations available which will make the disease much milder or prevent it from developing — providing they are administered within the first week after exposure. These preparations offer passive immunity, protection which lasts from two to four weeks.

A mild attack might be better than preventing the disease entirely, since one attack, even a slight one, generally offers immunity against measles for life.

Question and Answer Mr. R. A. O.: What causes urine

to be cloudy with a whitish tinge? Answer: Cloudy urine may be caused by a number of conditions. Often, on cooling the urine, a sediment will appear, due to certain chemicals. This is of no significance. Certain foods and drugs may produce cloudiness. Again, cloudiness in urine may indicate infection and be caused by pus. You should consult your doctor and have your urine tested.

JACKSON
The First Grade students are keeping a weather chart during March. They have learned a lot about the March Wind.

They are finding out that learning to spell is lots of fun. They had sharing day last Friday when each one brought a toy to school and used correct sentences to tell about it.

They have had lots of fun in the snow and drew some nice snowmen for their bulletin board.

The Third Grade has made Shamrock's for St. Patrick's Day. They also are making windmills and tulips for March.

THEY HAVE finished their citizenship board and did a nice job.

They are studying the telephone in English. Students who have never used a telephone were given the privilege of calling George McDowell, County Superintendent, and telling him of progress in their studies.

Those with perfect attendance for the fourth six weeks in the Fourth Grade were: Wendell Hyer, Ronald Malone, Mary Elizabeth Timmons and Charles Ward. They were lucky to avoid the flu, colds, measles, mumps and the sore throat.

Pupils in charge of the board for March are Linda Boggs, Mary Beth Timmons and Logan Sav-age.

The Seventh Grade is selling pepper and vanilla. Safety posters have been a special project in geography.

The Eighth Grade girls are displaying a knitting project for Home Economics. They have a new student, Connie Rice. They are selling stationery.

THE FRESHMAN class will have a bake sale around Easter. It will be a different type of sale. They are going to take orders and then make them up. They have four more flags to sell. The girls are studying child care in Home Economics. The science class is starting experiments.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring a bake sale April 9 at Kochheiser Hardware Co., 113 W. Main St. They are going to sell red and white ball-point pens soon.

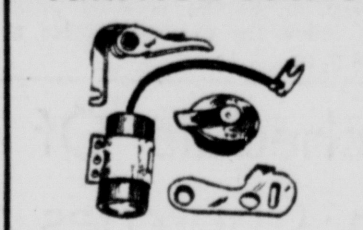

The Junior Class has been discussing the Junior-Senior Banquet. They are selling supplies and sweat shirts.

The Senior Class received their graduation invitations in February. They are planning their class trip.

State Liquor Agency To List Brand Names

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Changes in brands of liquor handled in state stores will be made public, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch was to submit a list at today's cabinet meeting of all brands added or dropped since he became head of the department, and future changes will be announced as they are made. DiSalle said this policy was adopted because of criticism of department handling of liquor brand changes.

Death Penalty Under Fire

California's debate over the question of retaining or abolishing the death penalty for crimes other than treason is merely the latest episode in a continuing wrangle that has involved most of the world in the controversy. Although the trend in recent history has been in favor of abolition, the debate continues to rage on even in areas which have abandoned the extreme penalty for crimes against society.

Britain has gone from one extreme to another in pursuing the moral and crime-deterrent arguments familiar to all. Less than two centuries ago, Britons faced the death penalty if convicted of any one of 350 offenses. Today, executions are rare and usually only for murder.

Thirty-five countries have abolished capital punishment for civil crimes. Nine American states—Maine, Minnesota, Michigan, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Delaware, Hawaii and Alaska no longer include it in their statutes.

Jesuits Run Special Home For Newly-Freed Prisoners

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The Rev. Charles D. Clark glances around the old school building and remarks:

"You can see more crooks here in 10 minutes than you can in a month on TV."

The old school is Dismas House, a haven operated by Father Clark for burglars, stickupmen, murderers and other felons recently released from prison.

Dismas House, named for the good thief who died on a cross next to Jesus, is a halfway house between prison and the outside world.

In it, paroled convicts get meals, a bed, a change of clothing and, more than likely, a new lease on life.

Father Clark, a 57-year-old Jesuit, has devoted himself to helping criminals for the past 23 years. He rather enjoys his informal title "Hoodlum Priest."

Since October, Dismas House has turned out more than 300 rehabilitated criminals. They have jobs and homes and are on the way to becoming useful members of society.

Before Dismas House, Father Clark helped countless other convicts. Some slipped back to the guns and blackjack.

"I don't kid myself," says Father Clark. "I play the percentages. But you can almost sense it if a man really wants to go straight."

Before the men are paroled in his custody, they are carefully screened at the prison. Then Father Clark takes a long look at them himself. He will not accept tain. Our government ought to speak honestly to our people and tell them where we have made the three of four mistakes that have got us into trouble. For we are in trouble and Latin America is too important for us to pass by with the flip of a press agent's fingers. We are going through a classical inflationary period which has been moving faster year by year since about 1948 and is now accelerated to a high speed.

One characteristic of the second stage of an inflation, that is, the stage when the capitalist begins to look for cover, is that there is a shift of investments in stocks to wild speculation in real estate. This always happens because when speculators regard themselves as too spread out, they try to cover by what they believe is a safer although less spectacular investment.

The third phase is when the very wise man deserts the stock market and the real estate speculation to make himself, as he calls it, liquid. That is, he holds on to cash in the hope of picking up things at cheap prices when they fall.

The idea for Dismas House started working in Father Clark's mind 23 years ago when Judge David Fitzgibbons invited him to attend some sessions of the Court of Criminal Correction.

"I was shocked by what I saw," he recalls. "Men with no hope in life. No home, family, friends. Men who returned to crime because they couldn't see any other way to go."

One day last year Father Clark walked into the office of his lawyer-friend, Morris Shenker, an Orthodox Jew and sometime benefactor. The lawyer looked at the priest and reached for his wallet.

"OK, father, how much this time?" he asked.

"Forty thousand ought to do," answered Father Clark.

Shenker put down $2,000, signed a note for the remainder and soon an 87-year-old abandoned school, located in a grim section of downtown St. Louis, became Dismas House.

About 30 men currently are residents of Dismas House. It can handle 60. A released convict usually stays about two weeks.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE have been lots of reviews of D. H. Lawrence's controversial novel, "Lady Chatterley's Lover," but none even vaguely comparable to Ed Zern's tongue-in-cheek commentary in Field and Stream Magazine. Noted Zern: "This fictional account of the day-by-day life of an English gamekeeper will have considerable appeal to a male reader, containing as it does interesting passages on pheasant raising, ways to control vermin, and other chores and duties of the professional gamekeeper. Unfortunately, one is obliged to wade through many pages about illicit love and passion to discover and savor the sidelights on the management of an English shooting estate. It is doubted that this book can replace J. R. Miller's 'Practical Gamekeeping.'"

Oliver Herford defined winter as the season when suburbanites struggled to keep the house as hot as it was in August when they complained about it. Julius Tannen had another definition for winter: a time when gentlemen befur blouses.

Scientist Believes Man's Big Challenge Is Himself

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Of all the challenging frontiers mankind faces, the greatest of all lies in man himself and his capacity to develop, a leading scientist told Ohio State University's winter graduating class yesterday.

Dr. John D. Kraus, Ohio State's renowned radio astronomer, addressed the 530-member class in St. John Arena.

He told the graduates they are entering a decade which may see manned artificial satellites and the exploration and first colonization of the moon and planets. Dr. Kraus is the only known person to track accurately the first earth satellite, Sputnik I, to its death in 1958.

"The situation which faces you and faces us all as we enter the new space age," Dr. Kraus told the graduates, "is a million times more significant to man and his future than that on the eve of Columbus' voyages 468 years ago."

"It will require all the imagination, flexibility and daring you can muster to meet the challenge."

"There are new frontiers in medicine, agriculture and in the arts. But the greatest frontier of all lies in man himself and his capacity to develop."

Wishing and dollars alone will not meet the space-age challenge, Dr. Kraus asserted. "It will require hard work . . . and a keen realization of what is important and what is worthwhile. We need less arrogance and more humility and dedication. We need less emphasis on a high standard of living and more on a high standard of thinking and doing."

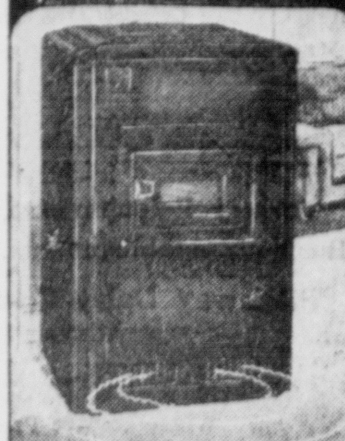

Among the things needed to help meet the challenge, he said is greater recognition to the important place which women have in the national scene. "They have mental abilities which we as a nation are utilizing only to a small extent," Dr. Kraus declared.

Guard Baby Against Measles

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The end of winter usually signals the beginning of the measles' season. Epidemics generally occur every two to three years, about this time of the year in the cities and towns where children are in daily close contact.

I'm sure that most parents are familiar with the slightly raised red spots and the other symptoms of this common children's disease. We have discussed them in this column many times.

So today I want to emphasize the reasons for protecting young children from the disease.

Now all of you know that, ordinarily, measles is nothing to worry about. Most healthy school-age children will recover completely in about two weeks with no serious after-effects.

However, for babies and children under five years of age, measles can mean very serious trouble. Not only does the disease itself present more of a problem, but secondary infections, such as pneumonia, can be fatal.

Most cases of measles occur among youngsters between the ages of five and ten years. However, complications occur among younger children.

While pneumonia is the most common complication, ear infection and encephalitis — inflammation of the brain — also can develop.

Therefore every effort should be made to protect children of five years of age and under from measles.

If an older child in the family develops symptoms of a head cold during an outbreak of measles, keep him away from his brothers and sisters.

If you believe your younger children have been exposed to the disease, notify your doctor at once. They can be protected if you act in time.

We have preparations available which will make the disease much milder or prevent it from developing — providing they are administered within the first week after exposure.

These preparations offer passive immunity, protection which lasts from two to four weeks.

A mild attack might be better than preventing the disease entirely, since one attack, even a slight one, generally offers immunity against measles for life.

Question and Answer
Mr. R. A. O.: What causes urine to be cloudy with a whitish tinge?

Answer: Cloudy urine may be caused by a number of conditions.

Often, on cooling the urine, a sediment will appear, due to certain chemicals. This is of no significance. Certain foods and drugs may produce cloudiness. Again, cloudiness in urine may indicate infection and be caused by pus. You should consult your doctor and have your urine tested.

JACKSON

The First Grade students are keeping a weather chart during March. They have learned a lot about the March Wind.

They are finding out that learning to spell is lots of fun. They had sharing day last Friday when each one brought a toy to school and used correct sentences to tell about it.

They have had lots of fun in the snow and drew some nice snowmen for their bulletin board.

The Third Grade has made Shamrock's for St. Patrick's Day. They also are making windmills and tulips for March.

THEY HAVE finished their citizenship board and did a nice job.

They are studying the telephone in English. Students who have never used a telephone were given the privilege of calling George McDowell, County Superintendent, and telling him of progress in their studies.

Those with perfect attendance for the fourth six weeks in the Fourth Grade were: Wendell Hyer, Ronald Malone, Mary Elizabeth Timmons and Charles Ward. They were lucky to avoid the flu, colds, measles, mumps and the sore throat.

Pupils in charge of the board for March are Linda Boggs, Mary Beth Timmons and Logan Savage.

The Seventh Grade is selling pepper and vanilla. Safety posters have been a special project in geography.

The Eighth Grade girls are displaying a knitting project for Home Economics. They have a new student, Connie Rice. They are selling stationery.

THE FRESHMAN class will have a bake sale around Easter.

It will be a different type of sale. They are going to take orders and then make them up. They have four more flags to sell. The girls are studying child care in Home Economics. The science class is starting experiments.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring a bake sale April 9 at Kochheiser Hardware Co., 113 W. Main St. They are going to sell red and white ball-point pens soon.

The Junior Class has been discussing the Junior-Senior Banquet. They are selling supplies and sweat shirts.

The Senior Class received their graduation invitations in February. They are planning their class trip.

State Liquor Agency To List Brand Names

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Changes in brands of liquor handled in state stores will be made public, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch was to submit a list at today's cabinet meeting of all brands added or dropped since he became head of the department, and future changes will be announced as they are made. DiSalle said this policy was adopted because of criticism of department handling of liquor brand changes.

Dr. J. M. Hedges was guest speaker at the Registered and Graduate Nurses Association Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Orville West, 551 Spring Hollow Road.

Dr. Hedges presented two topics concerning "Behavior Problems in Children in Relations to Behavior Problems in Adults" and "Menopause". A discussion period followed his talk.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Bryon Gulick with 32 members present.

Mrs. Paul Fenstermaker joined the organization.

Mrs. William Clifton, Mrs. William Camp and Mrs. W. A. Thompson volunteered to assist at the next Well Child Clinic April 13.

It was announced that a first aid class would be held April 7 with Mrs. Arthur Bowman and Mrs. Romaine Wilson serving as instructors.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Bell and Mrs. Charles Walters was appointed to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

The project committee reported on their current projects. They announced that tickets are on sale for the Easter outfit. The drawing will be held April 8.

Plans for a Euchre Party to be held April 30 at the South Court St. School were discussed.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. William Clifton and Mrs. Hugh Neff.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. James H. Fossnaugh, Route 1. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. E. H. Marshall and Mrs. Raynor Sebulski.

Readings Given At DUV Past Presidents Club

Mrs. James Trimmer, 525 E. Franklin St., entertained members of the Past Presidents Club of Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War in her home last night.

Mrs. E. L. Tolbert, president, opened the meeting with prayer in observance of the Lenten season. Mrs. W. E. Pickens led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and the Club Motto.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Irene Jenkins and Nellie Palm. "This and That" was read by Mrs. Tolbert; Mrs. Richard Moon sang "When Irish Eyes Are Shining" and "My Wild Irish Rose."

Miss Palm presented "Old Aunt Polly Green" after which a paraphrase on Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was given by Mrs. Frank Webbe.

Mrs. Palm conducted a question and answer period concerning Abraham Lincoln with Mrs. E. A. Smith and Mrs. Tolbert as winners.

"Peace of Mind" was presented by Mrs. Tolbert. Mrs. Trimmer read an article sent from a member living in Beloit, Wis., Cora Coffland. It was entitled, "If Man Should Reach the Moon".

Mrs. Pickens then read an humorous article "Annual House Cleaning". The meeting closed with campfire session.

Mrs. Trimmer assisted by Miss Palm served a dessert course to the members. The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday, April 8, in the home of Mrs. Richard Moon, 405 N. Pickaway St.

Marry Young And Like It Says Model

If you think you can be happily married, don't hesitate because of your age, says 18-year-old model Joyce Slattery.

"A girl who is mature, in love with a man who is mature, shouldn't postpone marriage because she feels she is too young, if her parents can be persuaded that the marriage is a good idea. Some girls are not mature until their late 20s. Others mature earlier," says the vivacious model.

Joyce attributes the success of her own marriage to three things: 1. She and her husband had worked and had a sense of responsibility before marriage. 2. They knew each other four years, were engaged for one. 3. They loved the families of each other.

"Bob is a plumber, goes to school evenings studying drafting, building codes and other aspects of the plumbing industry, all of which will boost his income, so we are getting along fine without my salary. He doesn't really want me to work, but there is not enough to keep me busy right now fulltime at home."

Brown - hair, blue - eyed Joyce, Mrs. Lentz in private life, is a popular model of the young set, earning $35 to $40 an hour. She works about 10 hours a week during a good period and occasionally works a full week. She is one of Marge McDermott's top teenage models.

"Sometimes I get home late at night," Joyce explains, "and then Bob is kind enough to get the dinner ready. He does some good broiler cooking, and is very considerate."

Joyce does the cooking usually. She also does the washing in a machine in the basement of the two family house in which they live in Rego Park, on Long Island. She does the ironing on days off.

"It's an adorable three room apartment," she says, "and we have it fixed up very cozy. When children come along we'll move out further on Long Island. I won't work. It takes Bob about 15 minutes to get to work from here. I spend a half hour on the train when I go into New York for a job."

Six-foot Bob is "quiet, very mature, not loud and boisterous," she says. He and Joyce met at a parish house dance when he had a small band. They began dating, and although Joyce dated other boys, she soon showed her preference for Bob because he seemed "to have his feet on the ground."

Joyce loves housekeeping but, suggests that if you do not enjoy these menial chores, you should postpone that wedding date. She does her own beauty tasks, except for hair lightening at the beauty parlor.

Kingston News Report By Miss Margaret Thomas Phone NI 2-3495

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelley and children Shirley and David returned Monday after spending a two-week vacation in Florida. They went as far south as Jupiter, Fla., where they visited with Mr. Kelley's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith and son, Butch, of Kingston who are spending the winter there.

They reported beautiful weather, although a little on the cool side.

Mrs. Ernest Kline and children, Dick, Victor, Robin, and Scottie from Port Clinton, O., were in Kingston, Friday night and Saturday visiting old friends, while Mr. Kline was attending a convention in Columbus.

They were on their way to spend the rest of the weekend with Mrs. Kline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dyer in Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Friece returned a few days ago from Ft. Myers, Fla., where they spent several weeks this winter.

MISS NANCY Minor who won the county contest as "Queen of Hearts" in the HI FI Heart Fund drive, was honored by the Tudor Store in Chillicothe by being selected as one of the models in their Heart Fund Benefit Style Show. This Style Show was given at the Tudor Store, March 9.

Mrs. Carroll Minor, Mrs. Gene Crawford and Mrs. Leslie Dearth also attended the Benefit Show.

A group of friends staged a housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Gene Crawford, Saturday evening in their new home on N. Oak St. The evening began with a carry-in dinner which was enjoyed by

Roast Beef Horseradish
Yorkshire Pudding Green Peas
Cucumber Salad Bread Tray
Pumpkin Pie Beverage

PUMPKIN PIE

Ingredients: 1/2 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 2 teaspoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice, 1 egg, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 2 tablespoons dark molasses, 1 cup canned pumpkin, unbaked pastry for an 8-inch pie.

Method: In a medium-sized bowl stir together thoroughly the brown sugar, flour, salt and spice. In a small bowl beat egg just until yolk and white are combined; add milk and molasses and beat to blend. Add to dry ingredients with pumpkin; stir until blended. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate; have pastry turned under and edge fluted. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven on center rack 40 to 45 minutes; knife will not come out entirely clear when tested in center but filling will get firm as it cools. Serve with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

For HIS Sake, Keep Looking

DEAR ABBY: My husband was an Air Force jet pilot who was blinded in a terrible accident last summer. I devoted twelve of the best years of my life to him and was horrified at the prospects of caring for a blind man for the rest of my life. So naturally I took the children and went to my parents.

He has since regained his sight, for which I am thankful, but the doctors have told us that his vision could be only temporary. My big problem is getting a divorce. Three lawyers have told me that I have no grounds. How would any girl like to be married to a man who might go blind at any moment? Don't give me a moral lecture, Abby. Just tell me where I can get a lawyer to handle my case.

HELENE
DEAR HELENE: If the marriage vows you took to cherish this man in sickness and in health mean nothing to you and if you can be heartless as to deprive your husband of his children, by all means keep looking. Somewhere there must be a merciful and understanding lawyer who will do your husband the kindness of freeing him from you.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about people who say, "We might be over tonight—but we aren't sure."

My husband and I have missed out on several things because we never know whether these people are going to show up or not, but we have to stay home to wait for them.

Yesterday she called and said, "We might be over tonight," so I baked a very nice cake. They didn't show up so now we have to eat the cake ourselves before it gets stale and neither one of us needs the calories. How do you handle a situation like this, Abby?

ANNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: When they say "they might be over"—ask them to tell you one way or the other. Tell them that if you know they aren't coming you won't bake a cake.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 (I'll be 13 in May) and I go with a boy who is almost 16. My mother says I shouldn't let him kiss me on the lips. I think I should because I am five feet seven and look about 16.

How about it if I just let him kiss me on the cheek excepting when we say goodnight, and then let him kiss me on the lips?

TOO YOUNG
DEAR TOO YOUNG: No matter how tall you are and how old you look, you are still twelve. Listen to your mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEAN: A new broom sweeps clean. Try to get one without an old witch on it this time, and start over.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

If you think you can be happily married, don't hesitate because of your age, says 18-year-old model Joyce Slattery.

"A girl who is mature, in love with a man who is mature, shouldn't postpone marriage because she feels she is too young, if her parents can be persuaded that the marriage is a good idea. Some girls are not mature until their late 20s. Others mature earlier," says the vivacious model.

Joyce attributes the success of her own marriage to three things: 1. She and her husband had worked and had a sense of responsibility before marriage. 2. They knew each other four years, were engaged for one. 3. They loved the families of each other.

"Bob is a plumber, goes to school evenings studying drafting, building codes and other aspects of the plumbing industry, all of which will boost his income, so we are getting along fine without my salary. He doesn't really want me to work, but there is not enough to keep me busy right now fulltime at home."

Brown hair, blue-eyed Joyce, Mrs. Lentz in private life, is a popular model of the young set, earning $35 to $40 an hour. She works about 10 hours a week during a good period and occasionally works a full week. She is one of Marge McDermott's top teenage models.

"Sometimes I get home late at night," Joyce explains, "and then Bob is kind enough to get the dinner ready. He does some good broiler cooking, and is very considerate."

Joyce does the cooking usually. She also does the washing in a machine in the basement of the two family house in which they live in Rego Park, on Long Island. She does the ironing on days off.

"It's an adorable three room apartment," she says, "and we have it fixed up very cozy. When children come along we'll move out further on Long Island. I won't work. It takes Bob about 15 minutes to get to work from here. I spend a half hour on the train when I go into New York for a job."

Six-foot Bob is "quiet, very mature, not loud and boisterous," she says. He and Joyce met at a parish house dance when he had a small band. They began dating, and although Joyce dated other boys, she soon showed her preference for Bob because he seemed "to have his feet on the ground."

Joyce loves housekeeping but, suggests that if you do not enjoy these menial chores, you should postpone that wedding date.

She does her own beauty tasks, except for hair lightening at the beauty parlor.

SUNDAY DINNER
Like spice in your pumpkin pie? Then here's your recipe!

Roast Beef Horseradish
Yorkshire Pudding Green Peas
Cucumber Salad Bread Tray
Pumpkin Pie Beverage

PUMPKIN PIE
Ingredients: 1/2 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed), 2 teaspoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice, 1 egg, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 2 tablespoons dark molasses, 1 cup canned pumpkin, unbaked pastry for an 8-inch pie.

Method: In a medium-sized bowl stir together thoroughly the brown sugar, flour, salt and spice. In a small bowl beat egg just until yolk and white are combined; add milk and molasses and beat to blend. Add to dry ingredients with pumpkin; stir until blended. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate; bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven on center rack 40 to 45 minutes; knife will not come out entirely clear when tested in center but filling will get firm as it cools. Serve with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream.

Mrs. Kaper Is Guild 40 Head

Mrs. Harry Kaper was elected chairman of Berger Hospital Guild No. 40 Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Allton, 381 Eva Drive.

Mrs. Samuel Dennis was named vice-chairman, and Mrs. Allton, secretary-treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the rummage sale to be held from 5:30-9 p. m. Friday, April 8; and from 9-5:30 p. m. Saturday, April 9, at 104 E. Main St., former site of Block's Shoe Store.

Mrs. Jake Reider is chairman of the sale. Persons having articles for the sale may contact Mrs. Dan Neason GR 4-5375.

ITALIAN DRESSING — Resembling an overturned wastebasket (top), the slightly blue felt cloche consisting of a series of pleats held in place by two broad black ribbons was designed by Canessa of Rome, Italy. The flat top (lower) is a geometric white felt hat that flaps over the head, fore and aft. Cut in a series of precise squares, trimmed with a single white rose, it was designed by Cerrato of Turin, Italy.

Nothing provides a better storing place for sweaters during the summer months than a large size tin lard can. Enamel the outside to match the color scheme of room in which it will be placed and paste a miniature sweater on the center of the front, one that has been cut from felt. Be sure that sweaters are absolutely clean and moth proofed then fold them neatly in the can. Place the lid on tightly and place the can in bedroom, closet or basement.

■ Reading a doctor's prescription is not quite as hard as breaking a code. What appears to be scribbling is really medical shorthand that physicians use to tell us your needs. It can be read by pharmacists anywhere and lets us, here in your neighborhood, fill any prescription no matter which doctor writes it. Chances are we could fill a prescription from Afghanistan. No matter what it looks like to you, the important thing is that we can read it and serve your needs.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

For HIS Sake, Keep Looking

DEAR ABBY: My husband was an Air Force jet pilot who was blinded in a terrible accident last summer. I devoted twelve of the best years of my life to him and was horrified at the prospects of caring for a blind man for the rest of my life. So naturally I took the children and went to my parents.

He has since regained his sight, for which I am thankful, but the doctors have told us that his vision could be only temporary. My big problem is getting a divorce. Three lawyers have told me that I have no grounds. How would any girl like to be married to a man who might go blind at any moment? Don't give me a moral lecture, Abby. Just tell me where I can get a lawyer to handle my case.

HELENE

DEAR HELENE: If the marriage vows you took to cherish this man in sickness and in health mean nothing to you and if you can be heartless as to deprive your husband of his children, by all means keep looking. Somewhere there must be a merciful and understanding lawyer who will do your husband the kindness of freeing him from you.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about people who say, "We might be over tonight—but we aren't sure."

My husband and I have missed out on several things because we never know whether these people are going to show up or not, but we have to stay home to wait for them.

Yesterday she called and said, "We might be over tonight," so I baked a very nice cake. They didn't show up so now we have to eat the cake ourselves before it gets stale and neither one of us needs the calories. How do you handle a situation like this, Abby?

ANNY

DEAR ANNY: When they say "they might be over"—ask them to tell you one way or the other. Tell them that if you know they aren't coming you won't bake a cake.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 (I'll be 13 in May) and I go with a boy who is almost 16. My mother says I shouldn't let him kiss me on the lips. I think I should because I am five feet seven and look about 16.

How about it if I just let him kiss me on the cheek excepting when we say goodnight, and then let him kiss me on the lips?

TOO YOUNG

DEAR TOO YOUNG: No matter how tall you are and how old you look, you are still twelve. Listen to your mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEAN: A new broom sweeps clean. Try to get one without an old witch on it this time, and start over.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Quick Look at the World Through the Camera's Eye

Mrs. Judy Hayman (left) and Mrs. Shirley Collins will collect forms in their Suitland, Md., area.

Dr. Robert W. Burgess, director of the Bureau of the Census, holds an official credential. Machine at right transfers written matter from microfilm to electronic tape for Univac.

NOSE COUNTING TIME AGAIN—Starting April 1, more than 60,000 counters—65 per cent of them women—will start taking the 1960 decennial census, the 18th since George Washington's administration. This year's census is a do-it-yourself count for the first time. Householders will be sent forms through the mail, asked to fill them out and hand them to the enumerator carrying the proper credential. The 250,000 enumeration districts were mapped by geographers at the Census bureau in Suitland, Md. The national count is expected to last about two weeks. (Central Press)

Girls under arrest in the case include (from left) Mrs. Peggy Flanagan, 31; Mrs. Jean Donovan, 26; Lola DeWitt, 31.

'HAMILTON BERGER' LOSES AGAIN—The windup of a party which police said included seven nude persons frolicking in one room, plus marijuana, brings these Los Angeles police department scenes. Chief "arrestees" are William Talman, 45, the "Hamilton Berger" prosecutor who always loses his case in the "Perry Mason" TV series, and TV producer James H. Baker, 39. Nine persons were released on bail.

AFTER 49 DAYS ADRIFT—The four Soviet servicemen who drifted 49 days in an open landing craft (right) in the Pacific are shown being served ice cream after their rescue, aboard the U. S. aircraft carrier Kearsarge. They are (from left) Philip Poplavski, 20; Junior/Sgt. Victor Ziganishin, 22; Ivan Fedotov, 21; Anatoli Kruchkovski, 20. They said they were blown to sea during training exercises in the Kurile islands, north of Japan. They were picked up 890 miles from Midway island, more than 1,000 miles from the Kuriles. They ate shoe leather.

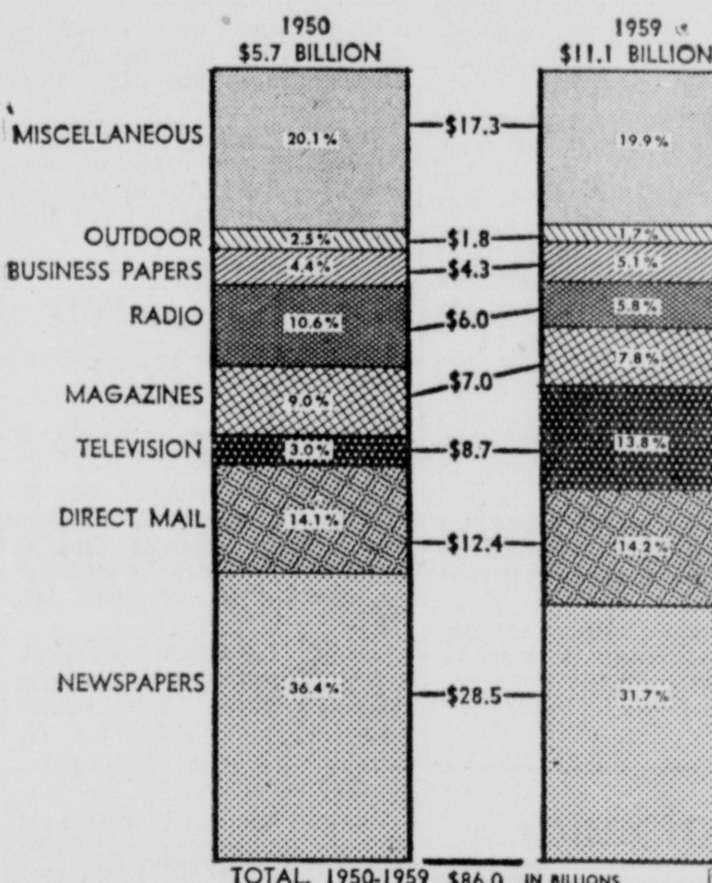

LIFE BEGINS AT 80—Dr. William S. Bougher (left), 93, and his wife, Dr. Marian Bougher, 84, of Chicago, are believed to be the oldest practicing husband-wife doctor team in the nation. They have been medical and marital partners for 48 years. Doctor Marian still makes house calls. And probably the oldest newspaper carrier in the nation is Sylvester Sines, still bouncing along at 82 in Bertha Hill, W. Va. A blacksmith for 70 years, Sines has been walking around his paper route for the past two years. He has 16 children, the last born when he was 75, and he eats five meals a day.

'NOTHING'—After California legislators killed Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal to abolish the death penalty in the state, Caryl Chessman, now facing a firm date with the gas chamber May 2, was asked what his next move would be. "Nothing, as far as I know," he replied.

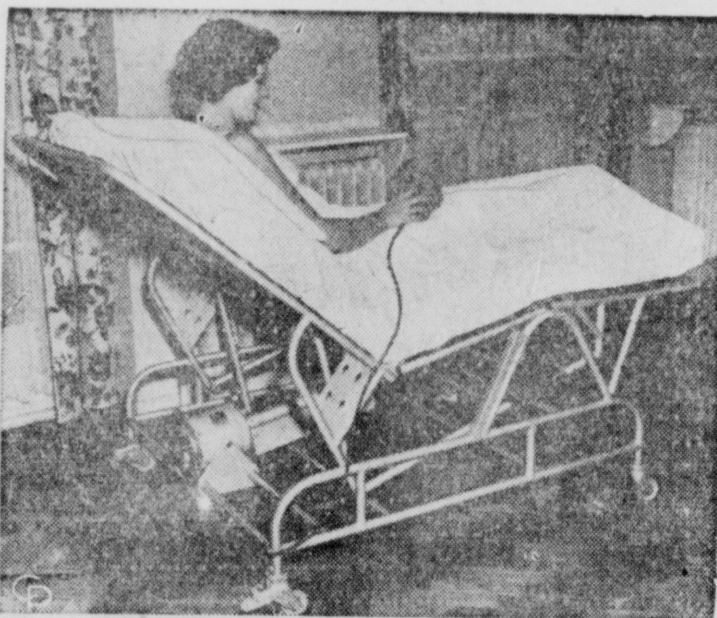

IT MUST PAY TO ADVERTISE—The chart illustrates how American industry spent a total of $86 billion to advertise its goods during the decade of the fifties, according to the National Industrial Conference board, New York. Although their share dipped a bit, newspapers continue to receive the largest portion of the ad budget. (Central Press)

NARCOTICS CHARGE—Arrested in Chicago and accused of being one of the kingpins in a crime syndicate narcotics ring, Salvatore Pisano tries to cover up with his manacled hands.

LONG DISTANCE phone is used by Claudette Villani, 11 months, to bid goodbye to friends in Parsippany, N. J., before flying from New York's Idlewild airport to Paris for a visit with grandparents. (Central Press)

NEW COMFORT FOR PATIENTS—A flip of a switch brings comfort to patients at home or in a hospital with the use of this convertible chair for the bed-ridden in Bromley, Kent, England. Pressing a button changes it from a bed to a chair, chaise longue or V-shaped couch. Mattress rests on plastic panels, permitting X-rays without disturbing anyone.

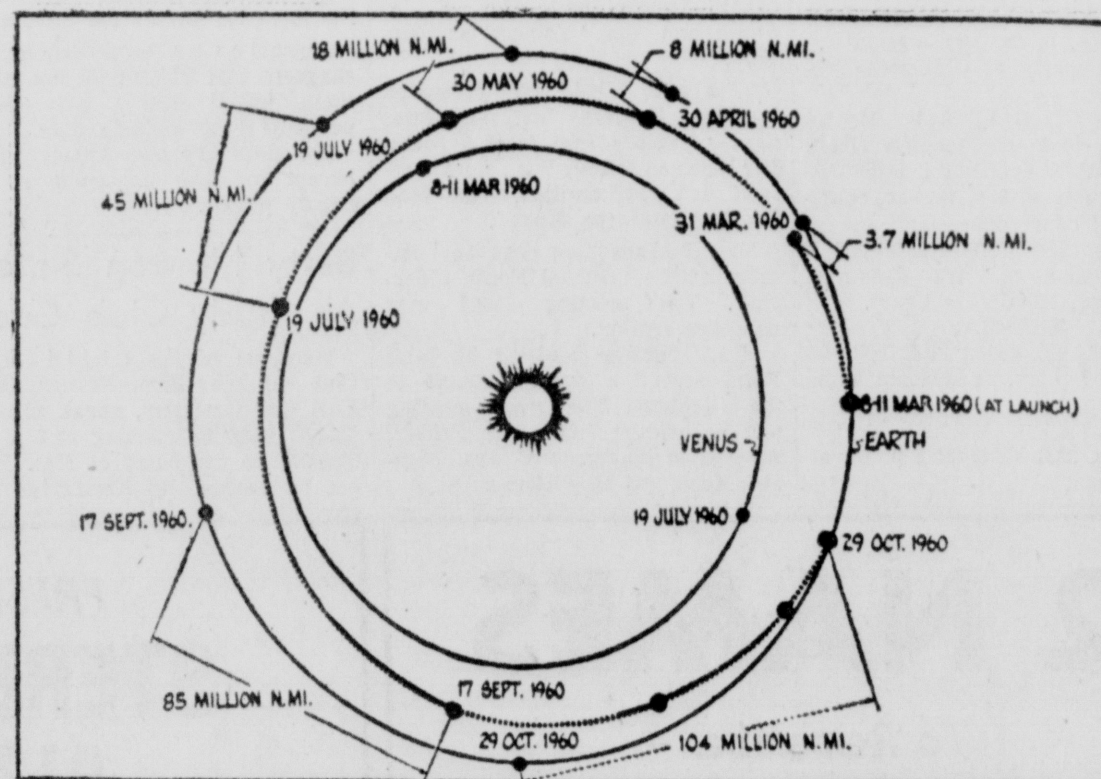

IN FINE FETTLE—West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer seems to be in fine fettle as he samples a glass of Rhine wine at a New York luncheon before leaving for Washington.

MAIL THEFT PROBES SHOT TO DEATH—Chicago police officers dust for fingerprints inside the auto of one of two postal inspectors shot to death by three men they had picked up for questioning in a mail theft. A witness told police he heard shots and saw the three escape moments after they were herded into the car by John McAuliffe, Jr. (left), 38, and Benedetto Spizzirri (right), 42. The slain Postoffice department inspector aides had been working as laborers around railroad freight yards in an effort to trap three men suspected of stealing mail from railroad platforms.

KILLED 8 PEOPLE—Dennis Whitney, 17, looks tense at his hearing in Miami, Fla., in the slaying of three persons in the area. The North Hollywood, Calif., youth admitted killing five other persons as well.

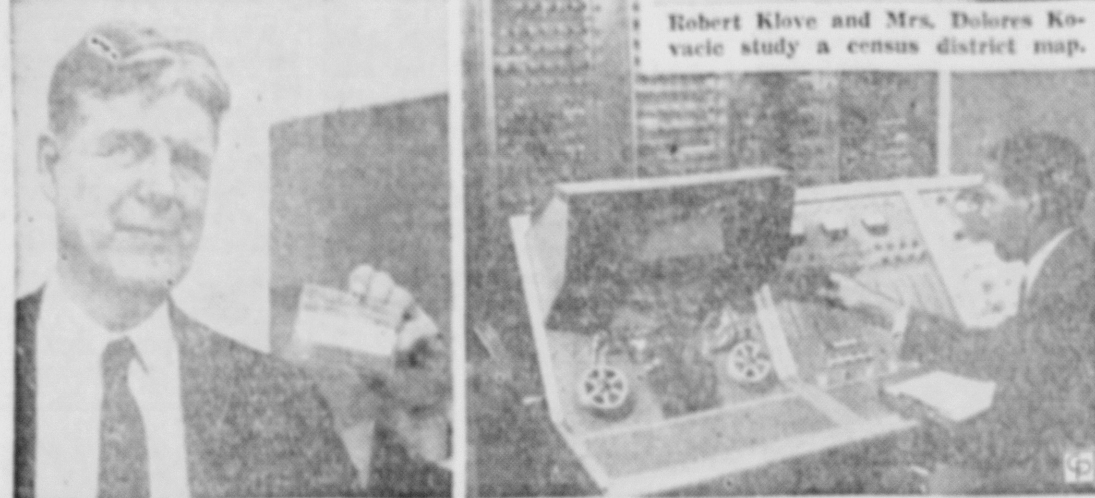

U.S. ROCKET PUT INTO SUN ORBIT—The United States shot a 94.8 pound sphere, packed with scientific instruments, into an orbit calculated to carry it closer to the sun than man has ever probed before. The artificial planetoid, named Pioneer V, will explore realms of interplanetary space not yet traversed by space vehicles. The drawing at top plots the projected path of Pioneer V, which was launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The sphere is on a path around the sun inside the orbits of Venus and the earth. It was launched by a three-stage Thor-Able rocket. At bottom, left, Dr. Abe Silverstein, Director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Office of Space Flight Programs, details the flight to newsmen. At bottom, right, Lila Luedke, an employee of the Space Technology Laboratory at El Segundo, Calif., traces course of satellite on plotting board. The 94.8-pound sphere was designed to gather data on radiation, cosmic dust and magnetic fields on its planned 295-day orbit—a position it is expected to maintain for 100,000 years.

Broncos Edge Trenton . . .

a last-minute pass and Big Bob scored. That sent Trenton home with a season record of 20-2, although it was actually undefeated, losing two games because of an ineligible player.

Tom Rathburn combined with Hoover to lead the way with 22 points on nine field goals and three foul shots. Eugene Kelley gave Taylor great support for Trenton with 11 of 22 from the floor and one foul shot for 23 points.

Between the two, Kelley and Taylor, they tallied 32 of Trenton's 66 points, while Ashville's Rathburn and Hoover contributed 43 of Ashville's 68 points.

On paper the Broncos should have lost last night's game. It hit 28 of 55 from the field for 28 percent and 12 of 21 from the foul line for 57.1 percent.

Trenton maintained the margin on both statistics with 21 of 68 from the field or for 45.6 percent and 4 of 5 from the foul line for 80 percent.

But the Trojans committed 13 personals to Ashville's amazing four, the cleanest floor play it has managed all year. Hoover, Rathburn and Hollenback played the entire game without fouling.

The game was decided under the buckets where Hoover and Rathburn held a wide margin. In fact, Trenton pulled its big men, 6'3" Ron Kash and 6'5" Chuck Bailey, out to the wings in the second half, leaving Ashville a clear shot at the defensive bankboards.

The bucket seemed to have a lid for Ashville on tip-ins. Many shots went in and out, but repeated attempts at the boards finally paid off.

TRENTON'S Taylor certainly was the greatest stop and go artist Troy fans have seen all year. His change of pace was terrific once loose on a drive-in he almost automatically got two points.

Kelley was brilliant on two-handed jump shots on the spur of the moment without glancing at the bucket. But after these two men, Trenton's attack faltered miserably.

Meanwhile, Ashville again proved teamwork is what counts. Hollenback dumped in 10 points from way out and Gregg came through with six while Gaines added four.

The Broncos chalked up 11 assists to the Butler County and Tournament champ's six. As Ashville coach Russell Gregg said after the game, "My boys never quit—they've all heart and guts—continued to win under fire and a gainst the breaks won the game."

Ashville used a man-to-man throughout while Trenton retaliated with a 3-2 zone that double and sometimes triple-teamed Hoover to no avail.

Turnovers were fairly even. Ashville committed 13 errors to Trenton's nine.

It was the opinion of most fans that last night's ball game will equal any further play in the state tourney play.

Ashville returns to action at 8 p. m. today against a rugged and taller Salem Local which downed Arcanum in the second game last night.

Tourney Topics

Big Bob Hoover captured the respect of all present with his solid exhibition of rebounding. After the game a main topic of discussion was Ashville's No. 15 who seemed to have springs in his shoes.

George McDowell, county superintendent of schools, made a deal with a 12-year-old Salem Local lass who was sitting next to him. He promised to cheer for Salem Local if the young lady would yell for Ashville. The compromise was a good one since the two teams in question won.

Ohio State To Be Underdog Against California's Bears

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Golden Bears aim for a second straight NCAA basketball title against an underdog Ohio State club tonight after turning back Cincinnati and its great Oscar Robertson.

The Bears won their semifinal 77-69 Friday night. Earlier Ohio State romped to a 76-54 triumph over the Violets of New York University.

NYU and Cincinnati meet in a consolation game tonight.

Only three times before have teams won two national collegiate cage titles in a row—Oklahoma A & M in 1945-46, Kentucky in 1948-49 and San Francisco in 1955-56.

California went into the Cincinnati game as three-point favorites and will be the choice by that much or more tonight at the Cow Palace despite the high scoring

Buckeye offense that led the nation with a 91.6 average.

Friday night Cincinnati and California played a near repetition of their semifinal last year when the Bears limited Robertson to 19 points. This time he scored only four field goals but added 10 from the free throw line for a total of 18 — far below his 34.3 season average.

Broncos Edge Trenton . . .

a last-minute pass and Big Bob scored. That sent Trenton home with a season record of 29-2, although it was actually undefeated, losing two games because of an ineligible player.

Tom Rathburn combined with Hoover to lead the way with 27 points on nine field goals and three foul shots. Eugene Kelley gave Taylor great support for Trenton with 11 of 22 from the floor and one foul shot for 23 points.

Between the two, Kelley and Taylor, they tallied 52 of Trenton's 66 points, while Ashville's Rathburn and Hoover contributed 43 of Ashville's 58 points.

On paper the Broncos should have lost last night's game. It hit 28 of 53 from the field for 26 percent and 12 of 21 from the foul line for 57.1 percent.

Trenton maintained the margin on both statistics with 31 of 68 from the field for 45.6 percent and 4 of 5 from the foul line for 80 percent.

But the Trojans committed 13 personal fouls to Ashville's amazing four, the cleanest floor play it has managed all year. Hoover, Rathburn and Hollenback played the entire game without fouling.

The game was decided under the buckets where Hoover and Rathburn held a wide margin. In fact, Trenton pulled its big men, 6'2" Ron Kash and 6'8" Chuck Bailey, out to the wings in the second half, leaving Ashville a clear shot at the defensive boards.

The bucket seemed to have a lid for Ashville on tip-ins. Many shots went in and out, but repeated attempts at the boards finally paid off.

Trenton's Taylor certainly was the greatest stop and go artist Troy fans have seen all year. His change of pace was terrific once loose on a drive-in he almost automatically got two points.

Kelley was brilliant on two-handed jump shots on the spur of the moment without glancing at the bucket. But after these two men, Trenton's attack faltered miserably.

Meanwhile, Ashville again proved teamwork is what counts. Hollenback dumped in 10 points from way out and Gregg came through with six while Gaines added four.

The Broncos chalked up 11 assists to the Butler County and Tournament champ's six. As Ashville coach Russell Gregg said after the game, "My boys never quit—they've all heart and guts—continued pulse under fire and against the breaks won us the game."

Ashville used a man-to-man throughout while Trenton relied with a 3-2 zone that double and sometimes triple-teamed Hoover to no avail.

Turnovers were fairly even. Ashville committed 13 errors to Trenton's nine. It was the opinion of most fans that last night's ball game will equal any further play in the state tourney play.

Ashville returns to action at 8 p. m. today against a rugged and taller Salem Local which downed Arcanum in the second game last night.

Trenton's Taylor was one of the great sparkplugs on the floor. He scored 29 points, most of them on a devastating one-hand jump shot. The fiery guard burst into tears after his long desperation shot barely missed as the final buzzer was sounding.

The cage floor in Hobart Arena was laid over a solid sheet of ice used for hockey competition. A close look around the edges enabled fans to see the frozen surface.

Salem is undefeated in 24 outings and has won all its contests by wide margins, especially in district play. Last night it blasted Arcanum, 73-56.

Salem has a tremendous ball club with height and what some fans consider the "Little O" of high school basketball. Al Thrasher. The closest any team has come to touching Salem was Christiansburg - Jackson in the semifinals of its county tournament, 10-25.

BOTH ASHVILLE and Salem have met one team in common - Madison South. Salem walloped Madison, 84-46, and Ashville topped Madison 97-73.

Salem will have a decided height advantage and again sports more experience. It will start four seniors and a junior. Seniors are Thrasher, D. McGuire, R. Stillings and Jim Markin. The lone junior is S. McCullough.

The Broncos will be decided underdogs. But there is one hope and possibility that may work in their favor. Salem has never been pressed all year while Ashville has had thriller after thriller.

Trenton Coach Jack Davis, honorable mention Class "A" Coach of the Year for 1960, congratulated Ashville coach Russell Gregg after the game saying, "You have a great team there and I hope you go all the way."

Ashville sports fan from Circleville, Leonard Rush, said last night he became so nervous during the latter stages of the tilt that he bit a fingernail until it bled.

MOST BRONCO fans were about as nervous as Rush. Ashville was down too many times to remember but doggedly refused to quit or become flustered.

Asked what was the turning point of the game, Gregg said with a huge smile, "When I saw that big left hand of Hoover's reach up and dunk that ball with four seconds left in the overtime, that was the turning point."

Actually it almost wasn't the turning point. Trenton's dashing Danny Taylor grabbed the ball after Hoover's bucket, raced down court and threw a pass from the half line that hit the bankboard, then bounced off the rim, missing a last second two pointer by inches. Taylor was in tears after the game, but he certainly has nothing to be ashamed of. His play was simply outstanding.

Salem and Ashville are nearly equal on offense. Salem holds a 73.8 average per game on offense to Ashville's 70.8 for an edge of three points per game.

But defensively Salem has been superb. It has held opponents to an average of 39.1 points a game while Ashville's opposition has averaged 52.5. Salem leads in this category by 13.4 points. But local sports interests question the caliber of opposition the two teams have met.

The Broncos are a tournament team and could easily rattle Salem if they can stick in there. Of this we know, Ashville will never quit and doesn't know when it is beaten. There is no other team in the state that surpasses the Broncos in heart and determination.

LAST NIGHT was a perfect example of that. Bobby Hoover was superb on the bankboards and from the free throw line. But when he was triple-teamed, Tom Rathburn came through from the corner and foul circle.

Salem has lost one game in two years that to Lynwood - Jackson in the semifinals of the state tournament last year. At that time Thrasher was a one man team.

Not so this year. McCullough has equaled Thrasher's 22-point average this year while Stillings and Markin have averages in double figures.

Each game gains more respect for 6'3" Rathburn who has a great future ahead of him. Actually he has more poise than any other Bronco. There is no wasted effort on his part.

"I expect Walker to play, but I probably will have to use him in a limited capacity again," said Orsborn. Tired, weak, and nauseous during the semifinal, Walker played only 25 minutes but still led the scoring with 27 points.

"We've had our hands full trying to get ready for Providence and I'm glad this orange juice matter seems over," said Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn after a police laboratory report and a doctor indicated Friday that it was uncontaminated juice that Walker drank before the team's 82-71 victory over St. Bonaventure Thursday night. The juice was brought to Walker's hotel room by a young man about 19 or 20 dressed as a bellhop.

The 6-7 Walker, a baby-faced Negro from Benton Harbor, Mich., who leads Bradley in scoring with a 22-point average, has spent most of the time in bed since he became ill during the game with the Bonnies.

NYU closed to within two points late in the first half, but with Lucas showing the way, the Buckeyes pulled to a 37-28 halftime advantage.

California proved exceptionally hot at the free throw line sinking its first 21 attempts and finishing with 25 of 32. Cincinnati sank 17 of 23. Both clubs hit 26 field goals.

"It's like I said," commented Cincinnati Coach George Smith, "the game would be decided by fouls, free throws and breaks. We got the fouls and they got the free throws and breaks."

Ohio State To Be Underdog Against California's Bears

BUCKEYE offense that led the nation with a 91.6 average.

Friday night Cincinnati and California played a near repetition of their semifinal last year when the Bears limited Robertson to 19 points. This time he scored only four field goals but added 10 from the free throw line for a total of 18 — far below his 34.3 season average.

Preview of Baseball

LAKE LAND, Fla. (AP)—Detroit lost 15 of its first 17 games last year, then spurred to within half a game of the lead after Jimmy Dykes took over as manager.

Four Tiger pitchers won a total of 65 games. Two Detroit hitters finished one-two in the batting race. Still, they wound up two games under 500 in fourth place, 18 games back.

What happened?
"There was a little item called 'left on base,'" said Dykes. "If you look it up you will see we left 1-161 on base. We lost 26 games by one run."

"Injuries killed us. Just when we were hot in June, Al Kaline got hit on the face and broke his cheekbone. Harvey Kuenn ran into a fence in Baltimore and hurt his leg and Frank Bolling was out about a month with an infected foot."

What about this year?
"We're improved in reserves more than anywhere else. If somebody gets hurt we can stick in a fellow who won't hurt us. And we've got a shortstop (Chico Fernandez) with a wider range than Rocky (Bridges)."

Dykes' four starting pitchers are Frank Lary (17-10 last year), Don Mossi (17-9), Jim Bunning (17-13) who led the league with 201 strikeouts, and Paul Foytack (14-14).

Either Ray Narleski (4-12) or Ray Semproch (3-10) with the Phils) could be the fifth starter. Either or both could revert to the bullpen which was a sad department last season. Of the newcomers, Bob Bruce (11-13 at Charleston) has impressed Dykes. So has Phil Regan (10-5 at Birmingham).

Pete Burnside (1-3), Tom Morgan (1-4), Dave Sisler (1-3) and possibly Hank Aguirre (8-7 at Charleston and still on a minor league roster) will round out the staff.

The outfield, of course, is the heart of the Tiger club. Batting champ Kuenn (.353) will be in right and Al Kaline (.327), the runnerup, will be in center with Charlie Maxwell (.251), in left.

Dykes like what he has seen of Steve Boros (.305 at Birmingham) and George Thomas (.274 at Birmingham). Neil Chrisley (.132) and Johnny Groth (.235) are extras.

At the moment Dykes is counting on Steve Bilko (.305 at Spokane), the hulking first baseman drafted from the Dodger organization for another whirl. Bolling (.266) at second and Eddie Yost (.278) at third are fixtures. The shortstop will be Fernandez (.211) with the Phils) backed up by Bridges (.268), Gail Harris (.200) and Don Osborne (.191) are behind Bilko.

The catching is only fair with Lou Berberet (.216) and Red Wilson (.263) due to split the work.

3 Youths Sell
Narcotics to School Kids

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Three youths, one a college junior, and a man have been arrested and accused of supplying narcotics to more than 100 high school and college students in Westchester County.

Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi announced the arrests Thursday.

For the past six months, Gagliardi said, both boys and girls have been using narcotics as a prelude to church socials and country club affairs.

The students argey are unaware their identities are known, Gagliardi said. And the parents, he said, are generally ignorant of their youngsters' deviancy.

Gagliardi said the offenses were chiefly in Port Chester, Rye, Mamaroneck, New Rochelle, and neighboring areas on Long Island Sound.

Those arrested are Charles Messina, 22, of Mamaroneck, a junior at New Rochelle's Iona College; Peter Furano, 16, of Port Chester; Donald S. Delchro 21, of New Rochelle; and Alfred Michael, 36, of North Pelham, an unemployed butler and father of two children.

Messina, officials said, financed his education by being a "pusher." They said they found enough marijuana seeds, in his shoes and in a mattress in his room to plant an acre of the weed.

Also found was a public library book titled "Drugs of the Mind," with overdue New York City parking tickets as bookmarks.

Murder Increases in 3 Ohio
Cities, Drops in 3 Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — Murder has been on the increase in three of Ohio's big cities, but has declined in three others and has been on an even rate in another.

This is evident from a study of crime information released by the FBI, concerning major cities crimes in 1959.

The FBI records—based on information supplied by the big city police departments — show that murder and non-negligent manslaughter:

Increase in 1959 over 1958: In Cincinnati, from 30 to 45; in Columbus, from 19 to 28; in Dayton, from 19 to 25.

Decreased in 1959, compared with 1958: In Akron, from 12 to 11; in Cleveland, from 73 to 68; in Toledo from 1

Regional Finals Due Tonight on Ohio Hardwood

Dayton Roosevelt,
Northwestern Lead
Class AA, A Outfits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unbeaten Dayton Roosevelt and Northwestern lead a talented array of high school basketball teams into the Class AA and A regional finals at eight sites tonight.

The top-ranked Teddies, who won the state crown in 1934, maul tournament-tough Middletown, 95-63, in the feature of semi-final action Friday night.

Ray Brown, a rugged 6-foot-5 center, dunked in 35 points to pace the Dayton quintet to its 24th consecutive triumph.

Middletown, which has won the state title seven times, was out of contention after the first few minutes. The Teddies held a 20-point margin at halftime.

Cincinnati Western Hills (19-5) won the unenviable task of battling the Teddies tonight by shading Urbana 46-41. Urbana, trailing by as many as 15, cut the deficit to two points after three-quarters but could never catch up.

In other action Friday, Canton Timken kept its unbeaten string intact with a nip-and-tuck 54-52 conquest of determined Portsmouth. Canton (23-0) battles upstart Newark (21-3) which eliminated Steubenville, 69-58, on the strength of a strong first half performance in the Columbus doubleheader.

In the Toledo regional, Toledo Scott, ranked seventh in The AP poll, got by Eastwood, 63-56, as Ray Wolford registered 32 points, and Elyria kayeed Marion Harding, 67-60. Scott (21-2) faces rugged Elyria (21-3) in a battle for a ticket to the state meet next weekend at Columbus.

In the fourth regional at Kent, Cleveland East Tech (21-1), ranked second and seeking a third straight state championship, goes against Akron East (15-8). Both teams reached the finals with victories earlier in the week.

In the smaller school class, top-rated Northwestern of Wayne County (26-0) turned back Hilland of Holmes County 47-41, but may have suffered a staggering blow in the process. The Huskies lost their top scorer, Dave Fuhrman, for tonight's game and perhaps for the season, when the 6-3 senior who has been averaging 20 points a game sustained a disjunct tendon in his leg.

The Huskies, who copped all the marbles in 1958, meet Frazeyburg's Red Raiders (25-1). The latter quintet upset Lowellville 57-46 as Jim Somers paced the way with 19 points.

Bob Hoover was Ashville's hero in the Troy regional, hitting a driving layup in an overtime session for Ashville's 68-66 win over Trenton. All-winning Salem Local (24-0), behind Al Thrasher's 25 markers, trounced Arcanum, 73-56. Arcanum won the title in 1956. Salem puts its victory skein on the line against Ashville (25-2) in the regional windup.

At Lima, Tom Thieman's 26 points helped New Bremen out Leipsic, 71-51, and Lykens toppled Oakwood, 58-39. New Bremen (25-2) goes against the formidable Lykens team, which has a 23-1 mark.

In the regional windup at Athens, potent New Boston (23-0) meets upset-minded Glenford (22-5). Boston scored semi-final triumphs earlier in the week.

The Pittsburgh Pirates won 19 out of 21 extra inning games in 1959.

Charles Schmitter, fencing coach at Michigan State, has been a member of the American Federation of Musicians for 30 years. He plays the tuba and the string bass.

McLish Says McLish Sours In Springtime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Who says Cal McLish can't pitch in the spring?

Well, Calvin Coolidge Julius Caesar Tuskahoma McLish for one.

"I just hope the Reds stick with me," the big right-hander was saying. "I have to learn all the hitters in this league all over again. I'm just not a good pitcher in the spring."

But that was before Friday when McLish, a 19-game winner for Cleveland in the American League last year, scattered five hits in five runless innings against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati lost the exhibition 1-0 to the Phils at Tampa, but Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson had reason to be pleased.

"Spring training is for working out the kinks," he was saying the same day McLish did his talking. "If he (Cal) is going to get knocked around, now's the time for it to happen."

Lefty Joe Nuxhall finished up for the Reds and lost it when rookie Jim Coker touched him for a run-scoring double in the eighth inning.

Only two other games were played in Florida where rain has been forcing exhibition cancellations for several days. The Milwaukee Braves whipped the New York Yankees 7-4 at St. Petersburg and Detroit beat St. Louis 7-6 at Lakeland.

Regional Finals Due Tonight on Ohio Hardwood

Dayton Roosevelt, Northwestern Lead Class AA, A Outfits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unbeaten Dayton Roosevelt and Northwestern lead a talented array of high school basketball teams into the Class AA and A regional finals at eight sites tonight.

The top-ranked Teddies, who won the state crown in 1934, mauled tournament-tough Middletown, 95-63, in the feature of semi-final action Friday night.

Ray Brown, a rugged 6-foot-3 center, dunked in 35 points to pace the Dayton quintet to its 24th consecutive triumph.

Middletown, which has won the state title seven times, was out of contention after the first few minutes. T-Ed Teddies held a 20-point margin at halftime.

Cincinnati Western Hills (19-3) won the unenviable task of battling the Teddies tonight by shading Urbana 46-41. Urbana, trailing by as many as 15, cut the deficit to two points after three quarters but could never catch up.

In other action Friday, Canton Timken kept its unbeaten string intact with a nip-and-tuck 54-52 conquest of determined Portsmouth. Canton (23-6) halves upstart Newark (21-3) which eliminated Steubenville, 69-58, on the strength of a strong first half performance in the Columbus doubleheader.

In the Toledo regional, Toledo Scott, ranked seventh in the AP poll, led by Eastwood, 63-56, as Ray Wolford registered 32 points, and Elyria kayode Marion Harding, 67-60. Scott (21-2) faces rugged Elyria (21-3) in a battle for a ticket to the state meet next weekend at Columbus.

In the fourth regional at Kent, Cleveland East Tech (21-1), ranked second and seeking a third straight state championship, goes against Akron East (15-8). Both teams reached the finals with victories earlier in the week.

In the smaller school class, top-rated Northwestern of Wayne County (26-0) turned back Hilland of Holmes County 47-41, but may have suffered a staggering blow in the process. The Huskies lost their top scorer, Dave Fuhrman, for tonight's game and perhaps for the season, when the 6-3 senior who has been averaging 20 points a game sustained a disjunct tendon in his leg.

The Huskies, who copped all the marbles in 1958, met Frazeeburg's Red Raiders (25-1). The latter quintet upset Lowellville 57-46 as Jim Somers paced the way with 19 points.

Bob Hoover was Ashville's hero in the Troy regional, hitting a driving layup in an overtime session for Ashville's 68-66 win over Trenton. All-winning Salem Local (24-0), behind Al Thrasher's 25 markers, trounced Arcanum, 73-56. Arcanum won the title in 1956. Salem puts its victory skein on the line against Ashville (25-2) in the regional windup.

At Lima, Tom Thiemann's 26 points helped New Bremen out Leipsic, 71-51, and Lykens toppled Oakwood, 58-39. New Bremen (25-2) goes against the formidable Lykens team, which has a 23-1 mark.

In the regional windup at Athens, potent New Boston (22-0) meets upset-minded Glenford (23-5). Boston scored semi-final triumphs earlier in the week.

The Pittsburgh Pirates won 19 out of 21 extra inning games in 1959.

Charles Schmitter, fencing coach at Michigan State, has been a member of the American Federation of Musicians for 30 years. He plays the tuba and the string bass.

5 Districts Denied School Bond Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Five Ohio school districts have been denied permission to submit bond issues to a popular vote.

The State Board of Tax Appeals' action Friday is the first of its type in years. The districts were turned down Monday on the bond issue proposals by the State Board of Education because it wants them to consolidate with other districts in view of their small enrollment.

Affected are:
Southwest Local in Mercer and Darke counties, which wanted to put a $544,000 bond issue to a vote May 3; Townsend Twp. Local, Sandusky County, $133,000 May 3; Old Fort Local, Seneca, $315,000 May 3; Southeastern Local, Clark $595,000 May 3, and Fort Loramie Local, Shelby, $335,000 Nov. 8.

All sought to add classrooms. The Board of education's action came under a law passed by the last Legislature which makes it necessary to get board approval before submitting a bond issue amounting to six to nine per cent of the district's property value.

The tax appeals board said it had to withhold approval in light of this action. Previously, when approval was not necessary, no such similar requests were denied. The tax board did approve a bond issue application from Cadiz Exempted Village District in Harrison County, which the education board did not oppose. The district will submit a $600,000 bond issue to a public vote May 3.

search program — including pilot nuclear tests — but did not couple this with any proposal for a voluntary moratorium.

British officials have privately hinted that a partial treaty with a simultaneous moratorium might be a way out of deadlock but the suggestion hitherto did not win favor with the United States or with the Soviet Union.

Tsarapkin's offer thus might place the British delegation in an embarrassing position in the talks if the moratorium proves unacceptable to the United States. The British government has carefully sought to avoid any real or apparent difference with the United States ever since the negotiations started Oct. 31, 1958.

Preservation Of War Flags Is Pondered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Permanent preservation of more than 400 regimental battle flags has been given top priority by Ohio's Civil War Centennial Commission. The problem of the deterioration of the banners now displayed in sealed glass cases in the Ohio Capitol Rotunda will come before the commission at a meeting in Toledo Wednesday.

The colors were carried by the state's 230 regiments and other Ohio units in every campaign and in most of the battles of war of 1861-65.

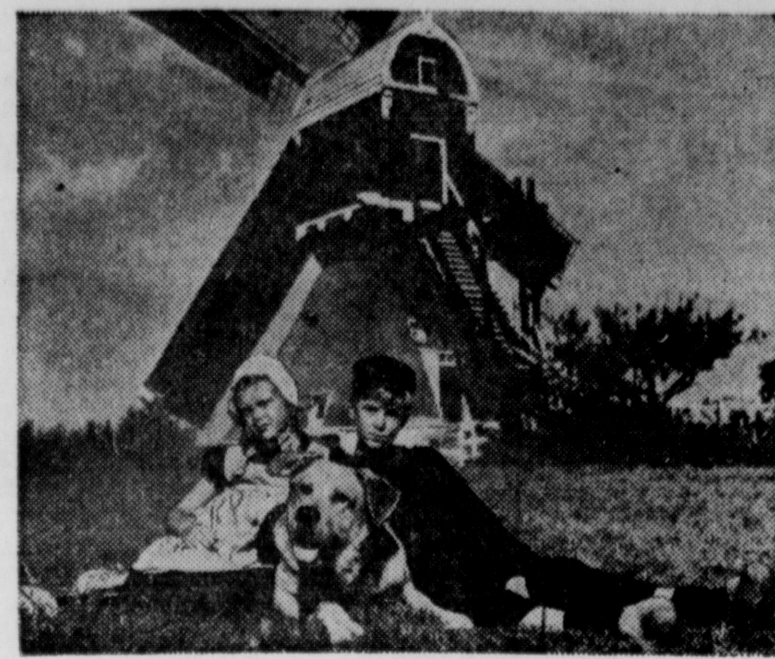

Battle flags of other wars—including four from the Mexican War I—also are in the Rotunda. Indications are that any flag preservation program will include them all.

Also to come before the commission is a publication program to tell the story of Ohio's part in the Civil War. Chairman William S. Carlson, president of the University of Toledo, has invited a number of historians to attend the Toledo meeting in an advisory capacity. They include:

Dr. Henry H. Simms and Dr. Everett Walters of Ohio State University; Dr. Harvey Wish, Western Reserve University; Dr. Harris G. Warren Miami University; Dr. Philip R. Shriver, Kent State University; Dr. James H. Rodabaugh of Columbus, Ohio Historical Society; Dr. Eugene Murdock, Marietta College; Dr. Paul L. Miller, Hiram College, and Dr. Thomas Leduc, Oberlin College.

5 Districts Denied School Bond Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Five Ohio school districts have been denied permission to submit bond issues to a popular vote.

The State Board of Tax Appeals' action Friday is the first of its type in years. The districts were turned down Monday on the bond issue proposals by the State Board of Education because it wants them to consolidate with other districts in view of their small enrollment.

Affected are: Southwest Local in Mercer and Darke counties, which wanted to put a $544,000 bond issue to a vote May 3; Townsend Twp. Local, Sandusky County, $133,000 May 3; Old Fort Local, Seneca, $315,000 May 3; Southeastern Local, Clark $595,000 May 3, and Fort Loramie Local, Shelby, $335,000 Nov. 8.

All sought to add classrooms. The Board of education's action came under a law passed by the last Legislature which makes it necessary to get board approval before submitting a bond issue amounting to six to nine per cent of the district's property value.

The tax appeals board said it had to withhold approval in light of this action. Previously, when approval was not necessary, no such similar requests were denied. The tax board did approve a bond issue application from Cadiz Exempted Village District in Harrison County, which the education board did not oppose. The district will submit a $600,000 bond issue to a public vote May 3.

search program — including pilot nuclear tests — but did not couple this with any proposal for a voluntary moratorium.

British officials have privately hinted that a partial treaty with a simultaneous moratorium might be a way out of deadlock but the suggestion hitherto did not win favor with the United States or with the Soviet Union.

Tsarapkin's offer thus might place the British delegation in an embarrassing position in the talks if the moratorium proves unacceptable to the United States. The British government has carefully sought to avoid any real or apparent difference with the United States ever since the negotiations started Oct. 31, 1958.

Preservation Of War Flags Is Pondered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Permanent preservation of more than 400 regimental battle flags has been given top priority by Ohio's Civil War Centennial Commission. The problem of the deterioration of the banners now displayed in sealed glass cases in the Ohio Capitol Rotunda will come before the commission at a meeting in Toledo Wednesday.

The colors were carried by the state's 230 regiments and other Ohio units in every campaign and in most of the battles of war of 1861-65.

Battle flags of other wars—including four from the Mexican War I—also are in the Rotunda. Indications are that any flag preservation program will include them all.

Also to come before the commission is a publication program to tell the story of Ohio's part in the Civil War. Chairman William S. Carlson, president of the University of Toledo, has invited a number of historians to attend the Toledo meeting in an advisory capacity. They include:

Dr. Henry H. Simms and Dr. Everett Walters of Ohio State University; Dr. Harvey Wish, Western Reserve University; Dr. Harris G. Warren Miami University; Dr. Philip R. Shriver, Kent State University; Dr. James H. Rodabaugh of Columbus, Ohio Historical Society; Dr. Eugene Mirock, Marietta College; Dr. Paul L. Miller, Hiram College, and Dr. Thomas Ledue, Oberlin College.
